WOMAN SUED BY CITRUS PACKERS CITRUS BODY ON STAND

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams at 1:30 this afternoon found in favor of the plaintiff in the case of the Placentia Mutual Orange association, which sued Mrs. Olive King, of Los Angeles, for $1190, alleged to be due in connection with an asserted violation of contract. In deciding that the association was entitled to recover, the court pointed out that a similar case had been tried here. This action was taken into the appellate court, which decided that members of mutual citrus marketing associations were bound in every way by the by-laws of such organizations and could not with impunity market their product through other agencies.

Superior Judge R. Y. Williams was expected to render a decision this afternoon in the civil action brought by the Placentia Mutual Orange association against Mrs. Olive King of Los Angeles to collect $1,190, alleged to be due the association from the defendant. Trial of the case began this morning.

The orange association alleges that Mrs. King became a qualified member of the organization in September, 1916, when she signed a "growers' contract," and agreed to permit the association to pack and market her orange crop.

By becoming a member of the association Mrs. King, according to the plaintiff, agreed that she would market her citrus crops through no agency other than the association and that in case of a violation of this agreement she would forfeit 50 cents for each standard box.

Association Testimony.
Evidence was introduced on the part of the association to show that Mrs. King in the years of 1919 and 1920 did pack and sell 2,380 boxes of oranges, from her eleven-acre grove near Placentia, through an outside agency.

H. O. Easton, secretary and manager of the association, spent about an hour on the witness stand this morning. He said that the by-laws of the association specifically stated that liquidated damages of 50 cents a box would be collected for any violation of the contract.

A copy of the by-laws was introduced in evidence. These carry the provision that no member of the association shall withdraw his membership except in the month of October and that he may only do so then by giving notice in writing.

Mrs. King, who took the stand in her own behalf, when the trial was resumed at 1 o'clock this afternoon, said that she had her orange crop packed and sold by an agency other than the association because she could not get the association to handle her oranges at the proper time.

Claims Fruit Loss.
She claims that she lost a good deal of her crop through delays on the part of the association and that it handled the crops of other members to the exclusion of her own.

Mrs. King also claims that she sought information of a representative of the association as to what means she would have to pursue to withdraw from the organization and that she could not get any definite advice on that point.

The case is considered important in view of the fact that many Orange county citrus growers are members of the same association or a similar organization.

Head and Rutan are attorneys for the plaintiff association and Leonard Evans is attorney for Mrs. King.

BONDS OF ORANGE H. S. ARE ACCEPTED

The $160,000 bond issue of the Orange union high school district has been accepted by the California company, which secured the issue on its bid. County Clerk J. M. Backs has received word from the purchaser stating that the purchaser's attorneys had examined the transcript of the proceedings and had found the bonds legal in every way.

"The bonds will be printed and signed as quickly as possible," said Backs, "and the district will have its money very soon."

MILES STANDISH'S OLD FORT TO BE REMANED

PLYMOUTH, Mass., July 21.—The Old Fort, which Capt. Miles Standish set up and manned for the protection of the little Pilgrim colony, is to be armed again. Through the initiative of the Ancient and Honorable Artillery company of Boston, the British government has taken from the royal arsenal at Woolwich two guns of the sixteenth century, similar to those of the forefathers' day, and given them as a memorial guard over the graves of the forefathers on Burial hill.

Col. Sydney M. Hedges, of Boston, former commander of the ancients, has received through Secretary of War Weeks, a letter from the navy department containing notice that the U. S. S. Pittsburgh has been assigned to convey the guns to this country, and her commander has been instructed to receive them at Gravesend "with proper ceremony."

The guns are described as follows: A brass sakeret, of the time of Edward VI, bearing a shield with three lions passant and underneath an inscription. "Thomas Owen made this piece for the Yel of Garmse when Sir Peters Meytas was Governor and Captain, A. D. 1559." This gun is six feet long, weighs 608 pounds, and was a breech-loader.

A brass minion, of the time of Queen Mary, bears a re-enforced rose with letters M. R. (Maria Regina), and inscription (John and Thomas Mayo, brethren, made this piece, A. D. 1554." This gun is seven feet six and one-half inches long, weighs about 800 pounds, and is of 2.875 caliber.

CITRUS PACKERS LOSE BATTLE AT ORANGE

The strike of orange packers in the packing houses at Orange and vicinity today was virtually at an end, with the schedule of 5½ cents a box for packing remaining effective.

With the recently organized packers voting at a meeting last night to return to work at the lower scale if all the strikers should be taken back, and the managers of the various packing houses announcing their intention not to penalize the strikers by refusing them employment, the strike was considered more or less a closed incident.

Desire to Return
According to the statement today of Mrs. Lila King, of Orange, secretary of the Orange organization of the International Fruit and Vegetable Workers' union, many of the strikers at the meeting last night expressed a desire to return to work under the reduced prices per box inaugurated by the packing houses two weeks ago.

The result of the discussion in the union meeting was a decision to accept the new rate and for all strikers to return to work, providing discrimination were not shown against members of the union.

Members were considerably disappointed last night when the expected charter failed to arrive. It had been expected that the instrument would be available for presentation. Officers have not been advised as to the cause of the delay. Another meeting will be held next Wednesday evening.

Re-employ Strikers
"We have already re-employed a number of packers who went on strike, some belonging to the unions and others not identified with it," said G. E. Grosse, manager of the Santiago packing house, this afternoon. "They have been applying to us for two or three days for work and we have given them their old positions where we had need for them."

"We will not discriminate against the strikers, but we will not negotiate with them as a body. We will not discharge, in order to give a strikers position, employees who have remained with us. We do not and will not in any way recognize the union."

It is understood that other packing houses are receiving applications from men and women who went out on strike.

The number that walked out two weeks ago in protest against a reduction of half cent a box for packing was approximately 100. The union has a membership of 124, it was declared today by the recording secretary.

MANY DRINKING HEALING HOT WATERS

(By J. B. JOPLIN)
SAN JUAN HOT SPRINGS, July 21.—Years ago Dan Baker, of old time Santa Ana newspaper fame, used to spend a part of every summer at this place and entertained the readers of his paper, the Standard, and later called the Bulletin, with accounts of his own and acquaintances' experiences here in their quest of health and renewed youth.

Your correspondent used to read his letters, but must admit, paid but little attention to the San Juan Hot Springs as a miracle place.

I was reminded though of the quaint old newspaper man and his correspondence when a touch of rheumatism and the doctor's orders landed me here the first of the week for an indefinite stay. I began my quest of health and an investigation of the wonders of the place very soon after arrival. I was surprised to find the old place so popular and discovered a number in the same boat as myself, some a little bit "gimpy" and others quite seriously afflicted.

Around the bubbling springs at one time last evening for it is early in the morning and in the evening that the tin cup brigade makes its way to the fountain—were thirty or forty people drinking the water. Its smell is that of a well rotted egg.

I saw a man there this morning drinking his eighth glass. I guess it was that many for he told me he had kept correct count of them himself.

The funny part of it, though the water all comes up through the earth from the one and the same chasm, it bubbles out in a number of places on the hill side and a chemical analysis from any of the pools is the same as the other. Nearly everyone though who comes with a cup has his or her special little pool to dip from as being the most healthful. The water is very hot to drink and has to be cooled somewhat for bathing purposes.

Between 300 and 400 people are staying here at present, a part of them with mine genial host, Leon Eyraud, at the hotel. The camping section is at the sycamore grove, a hundred yards from the spring enclosure, which has its biggest population in the history of the place. Tents and automobile camps stand comfortably close there. The place is cleaned up daily, is shady and nice.

The new plunge which was just recently completed, is popular and well patronized, especially by the large number of young people here.

The largest single day's attendance was on the Fourth, when about 250 people went into the plunge and over 200 took a dip on last Sunday.

Among the sojourners here are Mr. and Mrs. James Steeper and children, A. C. Gilbank and family, E. C. Martin and family, Sam Dunigan and party, Chas. Johnson, wife

"SOWING The WIND"

Boys---Girls---Here's $5.00 In Cash

The boys and girls in The Register's Bicycle Campaign are doing exceedingly well. Several of them are in line for a new Indian Bicycle if they keep the good work going. But The Register also wants to pay them some ready cash. So, it offers this:

To the boy or girl who turns in the greatest number of NEW SUBSCRIPTIONS between noon, Wednesday, July 20 and noon Wednesday, July 27, a cash prize of $5.00 will be given.

This is in addition to the credit which the solicitor gets toward a new bicycle. This is just an extra reward for earnest work, which The Register wants to give to show its appreciation of the boys and girls who are working.

Every boy and girl has an equal chance to get this $5.00. It doesn't matter how many or how few subscribers he has turned in to get a new bicycle. If he hasn't even started yet he can get in on this $5.00 offer. There will be a good many hustlers out after this extra money. The way to get it is to get right into the game and GO AFTER IT.

If you are not familiar with the details of this campaign call at The Register office and ask the circulation man. He wants to help you.

and son, Joseph Provost of the E. represented. Frank Mills and family are here for their regular annual trip. Near them is C. C. Jackson, Miss Percie and Mrs. Head's family, R. E. Geren and party, Miss Anson J. O. Arkley and family and Fred An-Mott and his entertaining family from Katella. Walter Congdon of Capistrano is here also. Mrs. Anna Stewart, Mrs. Lash and Mrs. Johnson, all of Santa Ana are occupying cottages here. Other parties here are from San Diego, Fullerton, Brea, Los Angeles, Anaheim, Huntington Park, Torrance and Long Beach.

City and County

Mr. and Mrs. Gus Juras, new arrivals in Santa Ana from Denver, Colo., have taken possession of White's luncheonette on Sycamore street, recently purchased from the former owner, J. B. Kintz. Juras stated that he has spent more than eighteen years in the restaurant business and will bring the benefit of his long experience to bear in giving excellent service. He will be joined later by his partner, M. Sedore, of Denver.

A motor party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. George S. Chessum and children and Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Raitt and sons left this morning for Atascadero, where they will remain for the period of the Y. M. C. A. summer school. Chessum, secretary of the "Y" for Orange county, will be one of the instructors of the first-year men, while Raitt, community secretary for the northern section of the county, will complete the third year of his course.

That this city was once again chosen as a Gretna Green by an eloping Los Angeles couple, is feared by the mother of the young girl in the case, Mrs. Helen Winters, 150 East Sixty-third street, Los Angeles, who has instituted a search for her daughter, Leona E. Hardt, 16, who wished to marry J. B. Burris, part owner of a bakery in Los Angeles, where she was employed. Following her mother's refusal, the girl disappeared and the Santa Ana marriage roster shows a license was issued to parties bearing the same name.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Farnsworth and daughters, Italia and Constance, of San Francisco, are registered among the recent arrivals at the New Rossmore hotel, where other guests include Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Maxwell, C. W. Schifer and J. Gross also of San Francisco; Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Beggs, Ocean Park; Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Langer, Mrs. J. C. Thurston, C. F. Wagner, Eureka; C. M. Hightower, Pasadena; E. H. Granger, Ontario; James Cousins, W. T. Wheat, Grant's Pass, Arizona; C. W. Timmerman, St. Louis; Mr. R. H. Clinchy and daughter, Rockford, Ill.; M. G. Artus, Galveston, Tex.; L. G. Griffith, Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stone, Mr. and Mrs. H. Benwood and son, C. E. Benedict, E. E. Adamson, Los Angeles.

County Purchasing Agent F. W. Slabaugh and his family and T. B. Talbert, chairman of the board of supervisors, and his family, will spend the week-end at Dr. Slabaugh's mountain retreat in Forest Home, San Bernardino mountains. The name of Dr. Slabaugh's hut is "Aksarben," which is the reverse spelling of the state of Nebraska. Both Talbert and Slabaugh are natives of Nebraska.

The F. P. Nicky Hardware company has placed a mechanic's lien against R. E. Franke and property in Shaw and Russell's Sunnyside addition; demand, $21.70.

The award of the contract for laying a cement floor in the athletic quarters of the high school was expected to be made today following the opening of the bids yesterday afternoon in the office of the board of education. Pending award of the contract, F. L. Andrews, of the board, today was making further investigations at the building.

Mrs. Katherine Andrews, of Chicago, who has been a guest at St. Ann's Inn practically ever since its opening, is recovering from a badly strained ankle, which came as the result of slipping on a piece of fruit peeling carelessly thrown on the street.

Plans for the production of "The Follies of Santa Ana" are being perfected rapidly, it was stated today by one of the members of the committee on production. The tuneful, colorful comedy will be presented early in the fall by Santa Ana Post No. 131, American Legion, and it was stated that all members are planning to work together to put it across. The whole thing will be the work of local persons and the thread of plot upon which the various numbers are strung, is said to be highly entertaining and original.

Legionnaires of Santa Ana and Orange county today were interested in the announcement that a divorce had been granted Irene Fitts, from her husband, Buron R. Fitts, state commander of the American Legion. The decree was granted by Judge Summerfield, of Los Angeles, on the grounds of desertion, and was not contested.

Announcement from Los Angeles that "Count" Albert Sirchofsky had been committed to McNeill's Island to serve three years, was of interest to many Santa Anans who remembered the "Count's" Huntington Beach oil-land transactions, which gave him much notoriety and a conviction for embezzling money from two Los Angeles doctors. The present imprisonment comes as a result of the "Count's" leaving the United States without a passport, as a subject of an alien country at war. At the expiration of the term he will be turned over to the state authorities for an additional three years' term of imprisonment, under the grand larceny sentence which followed his oil-land transactions.

PLAN BIG AQUARIUM.
SAN FRANCISCO—A miniature swamp, containing fish, turtles, frogs, salamanders, snakes, moss, logs, rocks and everything else necessary for an exact reproduction of nature will be a unique feature of a new $275,000 Steinhart aquarium to be built next fall in Golden Gate park here, according to Dr. Barton W. Everman, of the California Academy of Sciences.

STUDEBAKER MAKES DROP ON EXCHANGE

NEW YORK, July 21.—The Evening Sun's financial review this afternoon said: "The stock market demonstrated very plainly today, if further proof were necessary, that it is too completely dominated by sluggish trade conditions to the moment to reflect improvement in other and about equally as important quarters, such as in money and credit. Miscellaneous industrial reacted 1 to 2 points, but there was no general weakness. Studebaker moved down close to 77 at one time and General Electric was again very soft. Foreign oils were all reactionary, with Mexican Petroleum down about 3 points.

Trading was concentrated on a small group of stocks. The rails displayed the greatest stability, but made rather less response than might have been expected in view of the progress being made toward putting into effect the government refunding scheme. The persistent heaviness of the steel shares was not difficult to understand.

NEW YORK STOCK MARKET
NEW YORK, July 21.—There was a sluggish tone to the early trading on the stock market today. Lowering of the local federal discount rate did not seem to have any effect on the market and there was little buying in sight at the opening. Republic Steel responded to a poor earnings statement for the second quarter by losing 3/4 at 44 1/2 and later was shaded another 3/4 to 44 1/4. Tobaccos were higher. Rails were fractionally higher.

Opening prices included:
Studebaker, 79 1/2, unchanged; Mexican Petroleum, 102 1/2, off 1/2; Asphalt, 49 1/2, off 1/2; American Sugar, 67 1/2, off 1/2; Atlantic Gulf, 21 1/2, off 1/2; Republic Steel, 44 1/2, unchanged; Republic Steel, 44 1/2, off 3/4; Union Pacific, 118 1/2, up 1/2; Rubber, 51 1/2, up 1/2.
All the steel stocks were shaded in the first hours trading. Republic of the Republic company's poor quarterly statement, however, failed to get below 44, while Bethlehem "B" sold off only a point.
The market closed irregular.

CHICAGO BOARD OF TRADE
CHICAGO, July 21.—Grain prices fluctuated only fractionally on the board today, with a tendency toward a stronger market. Crop reports were not encouraging and buying was fairly heavy. Provisions were irregular.
July wheat opened $1.24 1/4, off 1-4 cents and closed up 1-4; September opened 126, unchanged and closed up 1-4; December opened unchanged at 129 1-2 and closed unchanged.
July corn opened 64c, up 1-4c and closed unchanged; September opened unchanged at 61 5-8 and closed up 1-8c; December opened 60 3-4, unchanged and closed up 5-8c.
July oats opened 39 7-8, up 1-8c and closed up 1-8c; September opened, up 1-8c at 41 3-4 and closed up 1-8c; December opened 43 3-4, up 1-4c and closed up 1-4c.

FRENCH READY TO MARCH ON SILESIA

Paris Nearing Crisis With Great Britain Over Disagreement

United Press Leased Wire
PARIS, July 21.—French troops were ready to march into Silesia today.

The Franco-British entente appeared to be approaching a crisis over the Silesian situation. There was strong disagreement on virtually every point.

The situation was:
1—Britain requested that the supreme council meet July 27 to fix the Polish-German boundary in Upper Silesia on the basis of the plebiscite, thus ending the dispute over it.

2—France—it was semi-officially stated—refused to agree to the proposed meeting, but said one could be held early in August after the plebiscite commission's experts have reported on the boundaries. Meanwhile, France insists reinforcements should be sent into Silesia.

There is belief here that Great Britain will refuse to send more troops and that, in that case, France probably will act independently.

BUSINESS WOMEN'S DRESS PRESCRIBED

United Press Leased Wire
CLEVELAND, Ohio, July 21.—Girls and women in business life must look out for these four things in their dress:
Becomingness.
Stylishness.
Comfort.
Individuality.

Mrs. R. C. Garnett, of Louisville, Ky., attending the National Federation of Business Women's club, said "a strictly business suit, not too mannish, is best for the business woman."

"Anything that is becoming and in good taste is suitable," said Dorcas Prichard, dean of the West Virginia Women's Normal school. "But one should never wear castoff finery in an office."

She said the costume she was wearing, orange sweater, white waist, white satin skirt and white shoes and stockings was "about right."

'BLUEBEARD' CASE WOMAN DENIED BAIL

Must Remain Prisoner In Twin Falls Jail Until Trial, Sept. 7

United Press Leased Wire
TWIN FALLS, Idaho, July 21.—Holding the proof of guilt evident and presumption thereof great with in the meaning of the statute, but pointing out that this did not mean that the defendant was guilty or that she would be unable to establish innocence on trial, Judge W. A. Babcock this morning denied the motion for granting of bail to Mrs. Lyda Southard, charged with the murder of her fourth husband, Edward P. Meyer, in September, 1920.

Mrs. Southard was not in court when the ruling was made.
Attorneys for the defendant will not push the matter of bail further and Mrs. Southard will remain in jail until the trial, which begins September 7.

DISCOVER ERROR IN BUTTERFAT REPORT

Mistakes will creep in, even in dairy reports.

The farm bureau here today stated that the palm for production of butterfat by individual cows of Orange county herds during June, must be awarded a cow in the H. S. Wakeham herd, near Greenville, instead of to the one in the C. J. Segerstrom herd, as was announced yesterday.

The record-breaker in the latter herd achieved an output for June, of 74.2 pounds of butterfat, but the bossy in the Wakeham herd, who carried the unassuming number of "15" instead of a name, today mooed her triumph when it was pointed out that her output for the same period was 75.1 pounds, almost a pound more than her rival's.

MOVE ICING STATION.

TRUCKEE—The Pacific Fruit Express icing station, which has for many years handled the refrigeration of perishable freight passing through the local yards, has been moved to Sparks, where the icing will be done in the future. The plant here used twenty to forty cars of ice in the busy season and had a pay-roll of from fifty to seventy-five men. A Williams has been appointed agent at Sparks. Better facilities there is given as the reason for the change.

Crowds—Enthusiasm—Bargains

Peterson's July Clearance Sale of Women's Footwear

It is not just "advertising talk" when we tell you that this store has never seen such crowds as have packed it to capacity these past two days of our sale. We regret that many did not receive the proper service, for the fitting of shoes is not accomplished in a moment, and, in spite of our preparations, we were overwhelmed.

We assure you, however, that we are ready for you now and no one will be kept waiting during the rest of the sale. The unstinted approval of all who have called has been given us for the high character of this sale—a sale that embraces the best in fine footwear, in immense selections, at the lowest prices seen in many years.

DEADLOCK HALTS IRELAND PEACE NEGOTIATIONS

LONDON, July 21.—The basis for a formal conference has not been found, declared the official government communique issued today after "President" De Valera and Premier Lloyd George had conferred on the Irish situation.

The two were closeted for an hour. De Valera will go to Dublin tomorrow morning, it was stated by his colleagues. He will communicate with Lloyd George later.

In a communique issued from the premier's residence in Downing street, a slight difference in the wording was noted, indicating that no serious difficulty has arisen.

It read: "The basis for further conferences has not yet been found."

Sinn Fein will insist that it out-ranks Ulster, according to a statement by Arthur O'Brien after De Valera left Lloyd George.

O'Brien president of the Irish Self-Determination league, said De Valera will be ready at any time to meet Sir James Craig, Ulster premier, but that the meeting must take place in Dublin.

The statement was in line with De Valera's assertion that he represents all Ireland in the peace negotiations and that Ulster must treat with South Ireland when peace has been arranged.

"We hardly expected that these conversations would result in a basis for a formal conference," O'Brien told the United Press. "But we are most anxious for peace. We will continue to hold the threads to prevent a breach."

GIRL ASKS $100,000 IN HEART BALM SUIT

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—One hundred thousand dollars "heart-balm" is demanded of Luther S. Foss, oil king and bridegroom of a week, by Emma K. Engelke, beautiful stenographer, in a breach of promise action instituted in local courts.

Foss, multi-millionaire head of the Paramount Petroleum company, was married July 12 to Miss Frances Hamilton. Miss Engelke's complaint alleges that on February 15, 1920, he had proposed to her and that she accepted him.

Foss is well known for large-scale operations in land and oil in Preston, Idaho; Ogden, Utah, and San Antonio and El Paso, Texas.

RUSS UNITED STATES IS A POTENTIALITY

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—A United States of Russia is a potentiality, as that country can be properly governed only through a federal organization, Boris Bakmetieff, ambassador to the United States of the provisional government of Russia, which preceded the present regime, told a gathering at the Commercial club here.

"America will play a leading part in the reconstruction," he said. "The refusal of this country to participate in any dismemberment of Russia and to recognize the present government there, has solidified Russia's friendship for America."

"The forthcoming government of Russia will be composed of those peasant groups that maintained their unity during the war," he said. "They will combine in opposition to the Bolshevik regime."

SOUTH PASADENA.—There does not seem to be any letup to the building activity in this city. Nine permits for new residences have been issued by Inspector Beasley since the first day of July, the latest one being to J. H. Jacobs for a four-room cottage at 1030 Indiana avenue, to cost $2000. Total permits to date this month are $35,775. Total permits for July last year were $28,675.

ILLINOIS OFFICIALS START INQUIRY WHEN BANK FAILS TO OPEN

CHICAGO, July 21.—The Michigan Avenue Trust company, small banking institution here, did not open its doors today.

Agents of the state auditor's department took over the bank's books and started an investigation of its affairs.

The bank's deposits totalled $3,700,000.

DOUBLE LIFE BARED IN MYSTERY DEATH

NEW YORK, July 21.—Two widows and two families today mourned the loss of a husband and father in Arthur Irwin, veteran player, manager and baseball scout.

Irwin told by physicians after an operation that he had only a few days to live, is thought to have committed suicide last week by jumping off a steamer on his way to Boston.

Investigation into his disappearance led to the discovery that he had two families, one in New York and the other in Boston.

His New York family consisted of a wife and a 24 year old married son, F. Harry Irwin.

The Boston family numbered a wife, a 37-year-old son, Arthur Herbert Irwin, two daughters and nine grand children.

Neither wife knew of the other's existence and both maintained that he had been a devoted father and husband.

The Boston widow, who was his first wife, said they were married in 1883. She said that she had never suspected him even though her relatives years ago had insisted that he had another woman in his life. Harold Irwin, the New York son, says that his father and mother were married twenty-seven years ago in Philadelphia.

FREAK STORM FLOODS HIGHWAY AND RANCH

SAN DIEGO, July 21.—A cloud-burst, followed by a heavy rain which raised the precipitation total to three inches in less than an hour, struck Campo early yesterday afternoon, according to report reaching San Diego last night.

Campo is about 64 miles east of San Diego on the county highway to Imperial, and about two miles north of the international border.

The sudden downpour flooded the highway at Campo and sent a torrent of water over the road at a point a mile and a half west of that place, besides washing haystacks off the hills, carrying away small out-buildings and doing other small damage to ranch property in the region.

None of the damage was serious, according to reports last night.

At two points near Campo the tracks of the San Diego & Arizona railroad were threatened by the water and slight damage done. Repairs were completed before 5 o'clock last night, according to report of the local train dispatcher, and all of the S. D. and A. trains were on schedule time last night.

MOTHER AND CHILD VICTIMS OF SLAYER

JONESBORO, Ark., July 21.—The mystery surrounding the murder of an unidentified woman and a girl about 11 years old, whose headless bodies were found last night, was probed by a coroner's jury here today.

Hunters, stumbling through dense undergrowth on the banks of a bayou, came upon the bodies. The head of the little girl was completely severed and lay some distance from the body. The woman's head was nearly severed, and knife wounds pierced her body. The underbrush showed signs of a struggle.

Owing to the condition of the bodies, identification is believed impossible.

CORONER'S INQUEST FINDS DEAD OREGON MAN IS NOT DENTIST

ROSEBURG, Ore., July 21.—W. Dennis Russell, hermit laborer, was the man whose body was found headless, bullet-riddled and half burned on the highway near here July 13, according to a finding by the county jury formally filed today.

The jury's verdict having fixed the identity of the murdered man, officers here look for the county court to push the search for the missing Dr. R. M. Brumfield, beau brummel dentist, and to offer even a larger reward for the capture of the murderers of Russell.

A warrant for murder and a $200 reward already has been issued for the apprehension of Brumfield, the man last seen with Russell, and in the wreck of whose car the dead man was found.

WOODCRAFT FOLKS WILL SUPPORT HOME

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21.—Grand Circle, Neighbors of Woodcraft, voted late yesterday to assess every member of the order ten cents monthly to provide a general expense fund for the order's Riverside home at Riverside, Calif.

This levy, it is said, will provide about $4,700 every month to defray overhead expense, cost of building material and meet other current expenses of the Woodcraft refuge.

All discussion relative to moving the headquarters of the order from Portland to Riverside has been kept from the floor of the convention. Officers think it unlikely that the matter will be taken up before adjournment.

SHIP REACHES PORT AFTER REPORTED SUNK

PORTLAND, Ore., July 21.—The steamer Effingham, of the European-Pacific line, which ran afoul the rocks near Stella, Wash., in the Columbia river last night, and which was reported to have sunk in 120 feet of water, came up the river on her own power early today and is at her dock in Portland.

Near Stella, where the Columbia river takes a sharp bend and vessels are forced to shy from a craggy mass of rocks on the Washington side, the vessel's steering gear snapped and she ran amuck.

Anchors were hastily thrown over in an effort to halt her onward sweep and avert a crash upon the rocks. The anchors failed to hold the vessel and in the ensuing crash, a great hole was torn in her starboard side.

STUDIOS WORK UNDER HANDICAP IN STRIKE

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—The "movie strike" appeared to be at a standstill today.

The threatened general strike had not materialized, although labor leaders asserted that unless producers cancelled the recent wage cut order, all union technicians would be called from the studios by the end of the week.

The Hal E. Roach studios remained closed today. The various companies at the Fox studios devoted their time to exterior scenes. At Metro, enough mechanics were secured to light two sets on the studio stages, and production was resumed despite Monday's walkout of mechanics.

GROCCERS LOSE SUIT AIMED AT PACKERS

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The Interstate commerce commission today ruled that the big Chicago packers are within their rights in shipping groceries as well as meat in their own refrigerator cars.

The ruling was interpreted as denial of the complaint of the National Wholesale Grocers' association.

The grocers charged that the big packers, through the practice of including groceries in the refrigerator cars, obtained an unfair advantage in the sale and distribution of their products.

Impressive Ceremony At St. Ann's Inn Marks Miner-Howse Nuptials

The lobby of St. Ann's Inn was a veritable hower of flowers, carried out in the pink and white tones, intermingled with palms and ferns, yesterday afternoon and sunbeams came in through the pretty French windows at 3 o'clock, when Miss Marie Gladys Miner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Shurburn M. Miner, of Orange, was united in marriage to Mr. John G. Howse, son of the Rev. and Mrs. William A. Howse, of Pennsylvania.

Proceeding the pretty ceremony, Miss Viola Tummond, of Santa Ana, sang sweetly "I Love You Truly," with violin obligato by Mr. C. W. Miner, of Redlands, brother of the bride. Miss Tummond also sang "Love Never Fails," accompanied by her sister, Miss Mildred Tummond, who also rendered the nuptial music, at the piano.

As the strains of Lohengrin's "Bridal Chorus" were heard, the bridal party entered. First came Little Miss Mary Emma Miner, of Los Angeles, a niece of the bride, who was clad in a pink frock of rose or garden, carrying a basket of dainty little Brunner roses.

Miss Marian Morrell, of Los Angeles, the honor-maid, wore a lovely organdie model, of a delicate pink shade, and carried an armful of pink sweetpeas.

The bride was a picture in her gown of white crepe de chene, draped in white silk lace and embroidered with orange blossoms from her father's ranch. She carried a shower bouquet of bride's roses and orange blossoms.

Mr. Charles Laverty, of Hollywood, attended the groom.

The Rev. George A. Francis, of the Baptist church, of Orange, performed the ceremony.

Following the pretty service, Mr. C. W. Miner gave a violin solo, Nevada's "Love Song," after which the happy bride and party and guests found their places at an elaborately appointed table in the inn's pretty dining room, where a delicious four-course wedding supper was served.

The appointments were of pink and white, and the favors were miniature corsage bouquets and boutonniere.

The invited guests were: Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Wolfe, of Pasadena; Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Day, of Santa Ana; Mr. and Mrs. Charles W. Morrell, Mr. and Mrs. Stephen L. Snow, and Mr. and Mrs. Milford Stallmer, of Los Angeles; the Misses Viola and Mildred Tummond, of Santa Ana, and Maud and Lillian Stark, of Los Angeles; Carol Hessert, of Hollywood; Genevieve Mott, of Petaluma; Margaret Kirkman, of Los Angeles.

The bride is a graduate of Santa Barbara normal college, where she specialized in home economics, and has been teaching for the past two years at Santa Rosa.

The groom is a graduate of Stanford and has accepted a professorship with the Middlebury college, at Middlebury, Vermont, where he and his bride will make their future home, after an extensive honeymoon including a week in the mountains near San Diego, a visit to the home of the groom's parents in Pennsylvania, Niagara Falls and other interesting places.

THEATRICAL PROMOTER IN GRIP OF LAW

A. M. McDonald, forty, a theatrical promoter, who is alleged, came to Santa Ana last spring and negotiated for the purchase of a show known as the "Winter Garden Follies," is under arrest in Los Angeles in connection with an alleged gigantic swindle and forgery plot, which, it is said, will run into thousands of dollars. Two bank clerks and an actor also are under arrest.

The three men under indictment besides McDonald are Justice M. (Jack) Young, a Los Angeles bank clerk; Albert Johnson, twenty-three, former bank clerk in Los Angeles; and Jack Collins, twenty-four, an actor. The arrest of a fifth man is momentarily expected.

The ring is accused of securing large sums from Los Angeles banks on forged checks and to have expended the money in promoting theatrical ventures that failed.

THE NEXT SUNDAY SCHOOL LESSON

PRACTICAL NOTES PREPARED FOR THE REGISTER
By Cal Ogburn

Lesson for July 24. Acts 9:19-20. Saul Proclaims Jesus as the Christ.

"Straightaway in the synagogues he proclaimed Jesus, that he is the Son of God. And all that heard him were amazed."—vs. 20, 21. There is nothing more amazing to the average person than that of a man "throwing his opportunity away."—Just as Saul had done in espousing the despised cause of Jesus Christ. No doubt Saul had proclaimed Jesus with amazingly convincing arguments, based on the Messianic prophecies of the Old Testament, and his own experience when, on the road to Damascus, Jesus had appeared to him. But while some were amazed at this, the amazement of a great many more was at Saul's folly in sacrificing everything that he considered worth while in life that he might go from place to place repeating what he believed concerning "that crucified peasant of Nazareth!" For doubtless from the very first it was Saul's determination, as he afterwards wrote to the Corinthians—1 Cor. 1:23—to "preach Christ crucified," which, as he says, was "unto the Jews a stumbling-block, and unto the Greeks foolishness." To this day, if not actually amazed at a red-blooded young man's choice of the ministry, there are but few who can reconcile themselves to it. His deliberate casting aside of all probability of ever having "a roof of his own over his head;" of leading a kind of nomadic life; ekeing out a mere existence on the small salary that he receives; and then, like a worn-out machine, in his old age be thrown on the junk pile! They think of him with mingled pity and reproach, and are amazed at his folly. They are agreed that "there are three genders: men, women and preachers." "The poor simp!" I thought he had more sense than to give up law or medicine for the ministry! And yet, Saul the bond-servant of Jesus Christ, as he calls himself, and those like him have done more towards bettering the social and moral condition of the world than have all other classes of persons together. Life is not to be measured so much by what a man gets out of the world as by what he puts into it. Looked at from their viewpoint, it is not at all amazing that Saul proclaimed Jesus, but it would have been reason for amazement had he not done so, knowing as he did from his own experience the power of the crucified Christ to transform the sinner into a saint. Therefore when a young man enters the ministry of Jesus Christ, go to him and tell him frankly that you are amazed at what he has done—because he has reached a degree of unselfishness far beyond what you have attained.

"Saul...confounded the Jews...and they took counsel together to kill him."—vs. 22, 23. Honorable defeat is one of the acid tests of a man's honor. When a man "gets the worst of it," either in an argument or a tournament, and then gets mad he shows his lack of one of the essentials of true manliness. To kill the logician does not put an end to his logic. The earth moves, whether Galilee is forced to retract its statement or not. Had the Jews succeeded in putting Saul to death, the truths he proclaimed about Jesus would have remained for others to tell. It is folly to lose one's temper and then to attempt to meet facts with force. The world made but little progress till free speech was encouraged. Where there is free speech, sooner or later, social, economic, political and religious errors will be found and corrected. It is always the "Dark Ages" when the guillotine is ready for the dissenter. Stagnation, decay and death are comrades of intolerance.

"They were all afraid of him—But Barnabas."—vs. 26, 27. When a man is endeavoring to reform, it is a dreadful situation for him to be in when he has not a friend in the world to whom he can turn for advice and encouragement. No longer was there anything in common between Saul and the Jews with whom he formerly associated. To them he was an apostate and deserving of death. Not one among the Gentiles was Saul's friend, and the Christians were all suspicious of him. They were afraid that he was still the wavering wolf that he was before going to Damascus. There was not one who had any confidence in Saul save Barnabas. But what help could he be to Saul, if those who knew Barnabas did not have confidence in him? Even so, what a trying position for Barnabas. He was risking his reputation and his friends that he might help a man who had been the chief prosecutor of the church—

one who had been implicated in the death of Saint Stephen, and of many other of the saints. What if Saul should "backslide," and renew his persecution of the church? Then Barnabas, if he vouched for him, would himself take a friendless ride on the "toboggan,"—so he might think. If you had been in the place of Barnabas, would you have taken the risk that he did? Have you ever taken a similar risk, or have you been too conservative and careful of your reputation to stand sponsor for the conduct of a man who is sincerely trying to "beat back?" Remember that when a man is in Saul's predicament there is nothing to him so necessary as the unlimited commendation of a good man. Without Barnabas it is more than probable that the church never would have had Saint Paul the apostle of Jesus Christ. It must have been to Barnabas forever thereafter a source of great satisfaction that he vouched for Saul. And this lies close to the surface; so live that you too, having the supreme confidence of all who know you, if the opportunity offers—as indeed it may—you can place some struggling "Saul" on a sure footing before your friends. If the "Saul" to whom you lend a helping hand does blunder, you will not be blamed for it by those who have known you long and favorably. Barnabas is a man whose life, as far as most of us have the account of it, is most praiseworthy, and a beautiful and inspiring example for all to follow.

Miss Laura E. Charnock Talks To Church Women

The regular session of the Women's Foreign Missionary society of the First Methodist church was held in the church parlors yesterday afternoon.

Miss Laura E. Charnock, branch extension secretary, was the speaker for the afternoon.

Miss Charnock told of her work in the extension department and gave the interesting experiences of the four missionaries in this department now supports in foreign fields. Miss Charnock is full of love and enthusiasm for her work and imparted a great deal of it to her listeners yesterday afternoon.

Mrs. Brown sang a sweet solo, "Nobody Like Jesus," and Mrs. Meyers from Bakersfield gave a short report of the work the society there was doing.

PLAN BARBECUE.

SAN JOSE—Members of the American Legion have completed plans for their big picnic and barbecue, which will be held at the Idume ranch. Word received from different bay cities, from Sacramento, Bakersfield and Stockton, is that posts of all these cities will be represented.

Four Long Beach boys, arrested here early yesterday morning on a blanket charge of vagrancy, were at their homes again today following their release from the county jail late yesterday evening.

The boys, who are seventeen and eighteen years of age, are George Darnell, Lloyd Murray, Russell Kellar and Harry Livesey.

They were jailed here following their arrests on suspicion of being up to some mischief.

City Marshal Jernigan got in touch with the Long Beach authorities. He was told that all of the boys lived there and that there was no complaint lodged against them in that city.

LA HABRA PLANS IMPROVEMENT OF ROADS

At La Habra a project has been launched involving the expenditure of $105,000 in the widening of the two principal streets, paving of three others and arranging drainage that will solve a problem that has long been vexing the community. The improvement is proposed under a road district improvement act.

The plans have received the endorsement of the Chamber of Commerce, approval being taken at the annual meeting of that organization.

W. L. York and H. O. Price, members of a committee investigating the plan, presented the big scheme and the ready and favorable response augurs well for success of the enterprise.

The plan in general contemplates the formation of a road district under the road improvement act, and the county is to bear about 40 per cent of the cost of the work. The committee has been in conference with the county engineers and members of the board of supervisors, and all have agreed on the general details of the plan.

It is proposed to form a road district, including all of the territory from the county line on the west to the east end of the La Habra school district, and from the county line on the north to the Fullerton city limits. It is estimated that this territory will have an assessed valuation of about $5,000,000.

SUNBURN HEALED BY ULTRA VIOLET RAYS

NEW YORK, July 21.—On the theory that "like cures like," physicians at the Broad Street hospital claim to have got encouraging results through the use of an equivalent for sunlight in treating sunburns. The properties of sunlight, according to Dr. A. J. Barker Savage, superintendent of the hospital, are practically reproduced in the rays of what is known as the Alpin lamp.

It throws off ultra violet rays that, it is claimed, kill the bacteria and gradually heal the injured tissue.

"The procedure," said Dr. Savage, "is based on a new conception of burns which regards them as infected wounds caused by the heat. Patients with sunburns are given a series of brief exposures to the rays of the lamp, being blindfolded in case of burns on the face."

The Broad Street hospital expects to do a big business along this line when its building is enlarged.

STANFORD STADIUM ERECTION UNDER WAY

STANFORD UNIVERSITY, July 21.—The building of Stanford's immense football stadium is going ahead according to schedule with a precision that seems almost impossible in an undertaking of such magnitude. An average of 2,000 cubic yards of dirt a day is being excavated.

Shirley Baker and E. E. Carpenter, the Stanford alumni engineers who are supervising the work, took up the task from the members of the engineering faculty, Professors C. B. Wing, C. D. Marx and W. F. Durand. This is not the first time that Professor Wing and Shirley Baker have worked together in a big engineering project. As members of the twenty-third engineers, they were associated in the immense task of keeping up the roads in the Argonne defensive, and their labors had much to do with bringing about the collapse of the Germans at that point, it is said.

Professor Wing was then a lieutenant colonel in charge of roads in this area and from October 15 until the armistice on November 11, he and Shirley Baker, then a captain, had under them 16,000 men engaged in building and maintaining roads between the troops and the railroads. After the armistice they had charge of still bigger territory, keeping the roads open between France and the army of occupation, an area of 2,500 square miles, 20,000 men being engaged in this work. Before the armistice the amount of roads on which they were holding the lines open grew from seventy to 800 kilometers.

The maximum amount of dirt removed in the Stanford stadium construction has reached as high as 3,000 cubic yards per day, which was sufficient to offset some of the delay encountered in the early work on the field, and may result at any time in the contractors going ahead of the present schedule, absolutely assuring the completion of the whole structure, playing field and all, in the 135 working days specified.

OLD-FASHIONED HOME SLIPPING BACKWARD

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The old-fashioned American home—the single dwelling with a front and back yard—is giving way even in the smaller cities of the United States to the modern apartment house. This is revealed in a report on 1920 building operations issued by the United States chamber of commerce.

The report, compiled in conjunction with the federal bureau of labor statistics, shows that last year seventy per cent of the families provided with new homes got one-family dwellings; eleven per cent, two-family dwellings, and nineteen per cent, a multifamily dwelling. The same figures show that the proportion of multifamily dwellings provided last year was largest in the small cities.

NAB ALLIGATOR AFTER HUNT IN COUNTY PARK

Campers in and around Orange county park felt more at ease today, following the capture late yesterday evening of a large alligator, which escaped from its inclosure near the entrance to the park some time Tuesday night.

All day yesterday persons in and about the park were on the lookout for the alligator and parents were afraid to permit their children to get very far out of their sight. While the alligator is not particularly dangerous it was believed that it would snap at a child if suddenly surprised or stepped upon.

The reptile was found about 7 o'clock yesterday evening by Miss Helen Portiere, aged 11, member of a family that is camping near the park.

Returned to Pen. She came upon the alligator accidentally. J. B. Irwin, custodian of the park, was immediately notified and the wandering alligator was returned to its pen, which is just to the left of the driveway inside the park entrance.

According to Irwin, the alligator escaped by crawling under the wire netting which has held it a captive for about seven months. Tracks about the park showed that the alligator had wandered several hundred feet. It could not be located by its tracks, however, because of the unevenness of the ground in some spots.

When found the alligator was lying in the park creek, not very far from the main thoroughfare.

The alligator, according to County Purchasing Agent F. W. Slabaugh is 17 years old and for the past six or seven months it has refused to eat. An attempt to feed it is made every three months. Slabaugh is of the opinion that the reptile became ravenously hungry and proceeded to eat whatever vegetation it could find about the park.

The alligator was given to the county about seven months ago by Sam Ward, assistant manager of the Orange county garage.

YACHTING FANS ON QUI VIVE OVER RACE

Yachting enthusiasts over the county are keyed up to a high pitch today in anticipation in the Newport Harbor Yacht club's schooner, ketch and yawl race for Commodore Claude G. Putnam's silver trophy next Saturday.

Several speedy entries have already been announced and it is indicated that the commodore's cup will be won only after a hard contest. Three of the fastest yachts that ever dropped anchor at the Newport club's moorings, the Unas, the Viking IV, and the Billiken, will be at the starting line Saturday to fight for the coveted trophy, it was said today. One or two additional entries are expected before the race is called.

Johnny Bowers will skipper the Unas in the race with P. H. L. Wilson as his first mate. The Viking IV, piloted by Admiral Alfred Soiland, will make a strong bid for the honors. The Billiken will add plenty of speed to the fray. She will have Capt. W. G. Lane at the helm, Rear Admiral Shirley E. Meserve as first mate and Miss Lane acting as ship's first officer.

The competing yachts will weigh anchor early Saturday morning from the Balboa pier and proceed to the western end of Catalina Island, where they will be checked by C. P. Visel, who will act as line man and see that the skippers pilot their craft around the proper buoy. From the east point of the Magic Isle the sailing ships will circle Catalina and double back to the starting point at Balboa as fast as the wind and tide will permit.

The course is about 110 miles in length and the yachts are expected to finish some time Sunday evening.

BIRCH STREET AT FOREST HOME PLAN

The summer colony of Santa Annas at Forest Home has decided that one of the streets of that popular mountain resort must be named Birch street in honor of the large number of Birch street families who maintain cottages there, it was stated today by Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Morrison, just prior to their departure for a few weeks in camp.

The present camp personnel is made up of the following families: Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Barkus, Mr. and Mrs. John Cochran, Mrs. W. S. Decker and son, Mr. and Mrs. Will Law, Mr. and Mrs. M. S. Cloyes and Miss Inez Cloyes, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Elderston, Judge and Mrs. Talbot, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Smith, Mrs. N. G. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. H. T. Trueblood, Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Slabaugh.

A lot has just been leased by F. L. Humiston, 1907 North Main street, who will begin building operations at once, while a number of others are planning to build in the near future.

W. S. Decker, city building inspector, will leave tomorrow to join Mrs. Decker. On his latest trip to camp his auto headlights blinded a deer which stood directly in his path until he had to put on the brakes and honk the horn for the creature to move. Decker said that the deer held its position until his fender almost touched it.

BONES, BELIEVED TO BE THOSE OF INDIAN, UNEARTHED AT BEACH

The skull, pelvis and other bones of a human skeleton were dug up by a laborer working on a roadway that is being constructed for the Standard Oil company near the Bolsa Chica Gun club, near Huntington Beach, late yesterday.

Roy Blake, foreman of the road construction crew, notified City Marshal Jack Tinsley of the finding of the skeleton. The authorities believe the remains are those of an Indian, numbers of whom lived in that section many years ago.

Several human bones have been found in the same vicinity.

RUSSIA ASKS PLACE IN HARDING PARLEY

WASHINGTON, July 21.—Russia will have to bring about a radical change in her methods before she could even hope to be welcomed at the Washington disarmament conference, it was said authoritatively today.

The present Soviet regime is the only one which could be called to the conference, officials admitted, but they pointed out they had banned any dealings with that regime until Americans held prisoners had been released and the regime consented to live up to its promises.

United Press Leased Wire. LONDON, July 21.—Soviet Russia is hopeful that she will be invited to attend the Washington disarmament conference, it was learned here today.

Preparations already have been made for dispatching Foreign Minister Tchitchevine and Under Secretary Zinovoff to Washington if the invitation is forthcoming.

Russia's hopes are based on two matters.

The first is the belief that President Harding's proposal really is an attempt at securing world peace. Russian leaders contend that this is the Russian goal also.

The other is that the Far Eastern problem is one of the most urgent confronting Russia. Soviet officials hope that such a conference will frustrate Japanese encroachments in the Far East republic which they declare has created a virtually state of war between Russia and Japan.

Russians, here, both sympathetic to and opposed to the Soviet regime, declared that the exclusion of their home country from the Washington conference would have a bad effect.

Leaving the Russian question unsettled, they said, leaves the world confronted with the possibility of warlike outbreaks. Also it will permit Russia to maintain her present standing army of 2,000,000 men, the greatest armed force in Europe today.

These conditions, they asserted, will keep both Asia and Europe in danger of war.

WORLD POWERS PREPARING FOR HARDING PARLEY

WASHINGTON, July 21.—The great nations of the earth today were clearing decks for the Washington disarmament and Pacific conference.

Within the last twenty-four hours there has been renewed confidence that Japan will give complete acceptance to coming into the parleys, and the arrangements for the dates and discussions of a preliminary program are ready to proceed.

However, with the question of Japan's participation believed assured, observers today were studying the many interests of the powers and how they will rank in the conference.

Japan's hesitancy made her the chief figure in this study. Fearing that specific Far Eastern and Pacific problems will be brought up in the conference so as to threaten her position in Asia, Japan intends to settle, finally if possible before the opening of the parley, the principal outstanding questions between herself and other powers. Japan is expected to make an advance to the Chinese government to arrange for the return to China of Shantung, and already she has presented to the United States a compromise plan of settlement of the Yap question. Japan has also sent an envoy to the China government of Siberia with conditions for the evacuation of Japanese military forces from Siberia and possibly Manchuria.

GIRL ELOPER TO FACE COURT IN PERJURY CASE

Charged with perjury in swearing to a false affidavit at the time they procured a marriage license here, Socorro Gutierrez, Mexican, and Rose Tinker, said to be a white girl, will be given a preliminary hearing before justice of the peace Cox tomorrow morning.

The complaint against the couple was sworn to by the mother of girl, Mrs. Josephine Tinker, of Compton. She asserts that her daughter is only fifteen years of age while she claimed to be eighteen when she secured the license. Gutierrez swore that the girl was eighteen.

Gutierrez and his bride secured a license here July 1 and were married by Justice of the Peace Cox. Mrs. Tinker, the mother of the girl, called at the district attorney's office the next day and secured a complaint.

Mrs. Tinker enlisted the aid of the local authorities in trailing her son-in-law and daughter. She was of the opinion that they had fled into Mexico, but this suspicion was routed when the couple showed up at Compton.

As soon as they returned to their home town they were arrested. They have been held in the county jail here since pending their preliminary hearing.

NAMED DEPUTY.

WILLOW—The state forest service has deputized Everett B. Hammond as fire ranger for Glenn county for the coming season. He is here under a co-operative arrangement between the board of supervisors and the state board of forestry. His duties are to organize the various districts of the county into fire units, and reorganize and inspect the present fire-fighting organizations here.

TO BUILD ROAD.

OROVILLE—Several buildings are being built at Enterprise to be used by the construction crew now working on the logging road of the Hutchinson Lumber company in that vicinity. The site of the new sleeping quarters is on the south side of the Feather river a short distance below the bridge.

ALLEGED FORGER IS HELD IN COUNTY JAIL

Following one of the shortest preliminary hearings ever conducted in the justice court here, Walter Hill, sixty-four, today stands bound over to the superior court on a forgery charge with his bail fixed at $1,000. He is being held in the county jail in default.

H. L. Copson was the first witness called. He said that he rented Hill a car on April 16 and that Hill gave him a check for $36. Copson said he cashed the check, deducting the rental.

C. C. Chandler, proprietor of the Main Shoe Hospital, said that Hill applied for a job at his place on February 17. He gave him employment, he said, and Hill worked until April 16.

It was on the latter date that Hill is alleged to have forged Chandler's name to the check which he presented to Copson. Chandler said that the signature was a "good likeness" to his own.

A. E. Hawley and G. B. Templis also have sworn to complaints charging Hill with forgery.

BANKER IN MANN CASE TO GIVE HIMSELF UP

Peter B. Hovley, Brawley banker and admitted white slaver, was scheduled to give himself up in Los Angeles today and he brought to Santa Ana to serve a year's imprisonment in the Orange county jail.

Hovley pleaded guilty before United States District Judge Bledsoe to a violation of the Mann act in having brought his niece by marriage, Mrs. William Stahlhuyden, from Chicago to Los Angeles in the fall of 1919 for an immoral purpose.

Although Hovley paid a fine of $1000 a great effort has been made to have him escape jail judgment. He was given several suspensions of sentence, the last expiring today. The case against Hovley was cleared-cut and he refused to stand trial, throwing himself on the mercy of the court. Part of the history of the case is said to have been that Hovley, through his attorney, offered $10,000 to the woman to settle the prosecution, which she refused.

The Ventura county supervisors have decided upon the Dennison route for the permanent Ojai grade.

CHIROPRACTORS PLAN SPEAKING CAMPAIGN

That Orange county chiropractors will soon launch a vigorous educational campaign over the county in behalf of chiropractic, became known today following a meeting of their association at Orange.

A committee of three, with Dr. J. A. Hatch of Santa Ana as chairman, was appointed to take charge of the forthcoming campaign, the opening date of which has not been announced.

Griffith Jones, Los Angeles attorney retained by the state association as counsel for chiropractors, will be the chief spokesman at the series of mass meetings through which the campaign will be waged, it is understood.

Entertainment features to precede the lectures are under consideration, it is said. The campaign will be financed by the Orange County Chiropractic association.

INVESTIGATE PLAN OF MANDAMUS PROCEDURE

Stockholders in the Huntington Central Oil company were today preparing the master stroke in their attempt to oust the present directorate of the concern which they charge with mismanagement of funds and a lack of technical skill.

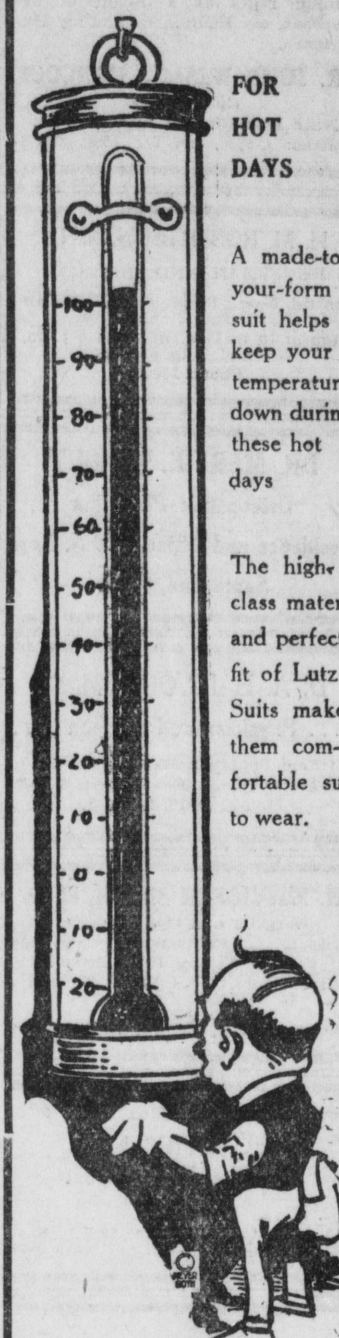

A litigation committee, composed of G. M. Lorraine, city manager of Alhambra, J. H. Macklin and P. W. Faulkner, both of Huntington Beach, were late this afternoon in conference here with A. W. Rutan of Santa Ana, counsel for the stockholders, investigating plans for mandamus proceedings designed to force the present board of directors to call a new election at which a mere majority rather than a two-thirds majority of the stock of the company would elect a new board.

Attorney Walter H. Sprague, counsel for the Huntington Central Oil company, and also a stockholder was expected to appear at the conference.

"I have investigated the mandamus proceedings," said Rutan today, "and I believe it is the best way to get at the matter."

Contra Costa farmers are in the midst of another squirrel poisoning campaign.

SWIMMER'S HOLE ARRANGED FOR BOY SCOUTS

Arrangements for the use of a reservoir as a swimming pool for Boy Scouts in camp at the mouth of Santiago canyon were being completed today. The reservoir is to be surrounded by a high barbed wire fence and is to be for the use of scouts only.

Last night a number of members of the county council of Boy Scouts met at the Villa Park hall with representatives of the two water companies that own the gravity water of the Santiago creek. The water companies were consulted concerning the building of a new road into the camp and in relation to the possibility of getting water from the companies for a proposed concrete pool that eventually may be put in about 100 yards below the intake dam.

Members of the scout council who attended the meeting were Dr. Roy S. Horton, who presented the plans of the scouts; Dr. M. A. Patton, Guy J. Gilbert, C. A. Vance, D. Eymann Huff, Fred Newcomb, O. H. Hunter and T. E. Stephenson and Scout Executive E. E. Heidt.

225 To Be In Camp

"There will be altogether in camp this summer," said Heidt, "about 225 boys and with pool we will teach practically every one of those boys to swim."

The scout camp, opened Monday, is now in fine going order. There is snap and precision in camp life, and the lessons of the out-of-doors are being absorbed by the boys.

Executive Heidt has taken the boys on one hike, and that proved to be a most interesting one. It was to the top of Robber's Peak, which in the middle of the last century was used by bandits as a lookout and on which "Hermit rocks," once the home of a recluse, is located.

Two garter snakes, captured by Paul Sloop and Ed Swift, and a water snake, brought into camp by Lawrence Campbell, some butterflies and lizards, form the nucleus of the camp museum. The garter snakes have evinced a friendliness for scouts and the three or four boys who have a penchant for snake charming are trying out their hypnotic powers.

All in Program
From getting up time at 6 a. m. until taps at 9:30 p. m., everything goes by program. One of the regular events of the morning is an hour's instruction by Scout Executive Heidt. County Scout Commissioner S. J. Cornell has mapped out his program to be at his office in Santa Ana daily from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m., and the rest of his time is given to the camp.

Last night Cornell had charge of the lowering of the colors, the most impressive event of the day.

The tents are pitched on the tableland close to the edge of a foothill. Headquarters tent, furthest back, then the flagpole, then two lines of pup tents—this is the picture that is alive with boys immediately after assembly call brings them from their various camp duties.

From their places in front of their tents the boys form in patrols, march to the flag and stand at attention while reports of the day are given to the commissioner by the patrol leaders.

Colors Lowered

The color guard advances and the colors are lowered while every scout stands at salute repeating the oath of allegiance to the flag.

And then came "eats." Three times a day every scout has a meal that he enjoys hugely. Ed Bradner is the man behind the meal. The boys all declare him to be the best cook who ever turned a hot-cake or stirred a stew.

Bradner used to be forest service cook in the Santa Ana mountains. Last year he cooked for Troop 8 while it camped in Trabuco. This year when he knew just how to cook for a man who knew just how to cook for a scout, he was on hand.

The Rev. Mr. Hill of Orange is to have charge of religious services in camp Sunday.

MAN HURT, HORSE DIES IN ACCIDENT

William Duncan, of Tustin, is minus one of his best horses and is treating himself for injuries sustained in an unusual accident in which the horse was killed.

Duncan was driving a team of horses into Tustin about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon and was nearing the intersection of First street and the state highway when a motor truck driven by Raymond Marsile, East Seventeenth street, Santa Ana, rounded the corner.

A trailer attached to the rear of the truck broke loose when a bolt holding the tongue to the truck snapped. The trailer lunged to the left side of the highway and the tongue pierced the breast of one of the horses.

The sudden impact threw Duncan from his seat on the wagon and he fell between the two horses he was driving. He was badly bruised and scratched. The horse lived about 15 minutes.

Deputy Sheriff Theo. Lacy was one of the first persons to arrive at the scene of the accident.

FRANK P. FLINT NOW MEMBER OF COUNTY'S HARBOR BOOST BODY

Members of the Orange County Harbor association today were considerably elated over announcement that Frank P. Flint, prominent Los Angeles man and former United States senator, had become identified with the organization as a member. He became a member through the activity of D. Eymann Huff, president of the association. Huff having written him about the organization and its plans, enclosing a copy of a bulletin giving facts about the harbor and containing a summary of the value of various crops of the county.

Enclosed with his application for a membership was a letter expressing his appreciation of the opportunity to become identified with the movement to advance the county harbor.

"I am glad to comply with your request and join the Orange County Harbor association, not only for the reason that you request it, but for the further fact that, in my opinion, this association is doing a splendid work, and it will be of material benefit to all property owners in Orange county and vicinity," said Flint.

FRAUD CASE MAN TO SEEK LENIENCY

William Wignall, 25, convicted by a jury of criminal conspiracy in defrauding the First National bank of Yorba Linda out of $300, is scheduled to appear before Superior Judge Z. B. West tomorrow morning at 9:30 o'clock with an application for probation.

District Attorney A. P. Nelson stated today that he would oppose the granting of the application. Wignall had been out of San Quentin penitentiary but one month when he entered into an alleged conspiracy with three other bunko artists to defraud the Yorba Linda bank. He served two years of a three year term for obtaining money under false pretenses.

In view of this fact local authorities do not believe that Wignall's application for probation will be granted. Three other men who were associated with him in the plot to defraud the Yorba Linda bank have not been taken into custody. Wignall has given the authorities no information that will lead to their arrest.

CALL NEW EXES FOR POST JOB AT ORANGE.

A new examination for postmaster at Orange has been ordered and the date is set for August 19.

Word to this effect comes in a dispatch from Washington, D. C.

This examination adds another chapter in the long delay that has occurred in the filling of the vacancy caused by the death of Postmaster James Fullerton thirteen months ago. Upon the postmaster's death, Miss Lela Fernald became acting postmaster, and she still holds that position.

Civil service examinations for applicants for appointment to the position were held about ten months ago. As a result of those examinations, the name of Harry Upham was sent by President Woodrow Wilson to the senate for confirmation.

Senate Policy.
The senate, however, entered upon a definite plan of refusing to confirm any of the Wilson appointments for post office positions, and the office at Orange remained vacant.

When the Harding administration came in, a policy for calling for examinations to fill postmasterhips was entered upon. Examinations for five third class offices are to be held in Orange county next Saturday. Those examinations are for post offices at Brea, Yorba Linda, Laguna Beach, Newport Beach and Balboa.

To Be Held Here.

The tests, so far as can be determined here, will all be held before L. P. Harvey, local secretary for the civil service commission. These tests will be almost entirely written. Orange is a second class post office; salary, $2600. With second class post offices but little of the test is written, for education counts for but 20 per cent in the averages while business experience and fitness counts for 80 per cent.

Other second class California offices for which tests are to be held August 19, together with the salary paid at each, are: Calexico, $2800; Lindsay, $2500; Lodi, $2700; San Luis Obispo, $2900; Uplands, $2500.

TO NAME SUCCESSOR.

WOODLAND—Selection of a city trustee to succeed Asa W. Morris, cattle dealer who died instantly when his automobile rolled off a grade eighteen miles from Dunsmuir recently, will be made here soon. Frank Morris, son of the Holstein breeder, has been mentioned prominently.

FISHING EXPERT IS 'KIDDED' AS OTHERS LAND MORE THAN HE

Fishermen are kidding Victor Walker these days and are getting a kick out of it.

It seems that of late Walker, who is well known for his uncanny ability to pull fish out of water where others can't, has been taking on all comers with the rod and reel and invariably coming out 'way ahead of his competitors.

Now Vic Walker is nothing if not modest. Still, if you were considered to be one of the best fishermen in these parts and you could pull fish out of places where others wouldn't get a bite and people would come to you and ask your advice on matters piscatorial, wouldn't you naturally sort of kid your opponents and tell them to "get a rep?"

Anyway—

Sunday, Mrs. Walker and Bob Hazard of Smelter both left Vic far behind in the number of fish caught and yesterday George Loggins and P. C. Edmunds caught twenty fish while Walker was pulling two perch and one leopard shark.

Loggins and Edmunds are giving Walker the laugh but at the same time are praising the way he pulled out the two perch. They claim no other fisherman in the county could have done it the way he did.

SUPERVISORS WILL TALK TRUCK LOADS

Supervisors of Orange county were today planning to go to Riverside Monday to meet with the boards from Riverside and San Bernardino counties to discuss tri-counties interests.

Proposals for a tri-counties tubercular hospital, a uniform ordinance for the regulation of trucks and loads on highways and water conservation will be considered, it is understood.

A recent act of the state legislature empowering counties to expend money for flood control work outside of their own territory, makes feasible the co-operation of the three counties in the building of check dams and other devices for controlling the flood waters of the Santa Ana river and sinking them in the debris of the river at the headwaters near Highland.

In making its new "silver" coinage, Britain employed the surplus nickel castings used for bullets during the war.

TO BE LAID TO REST BESIDE COMRADES

The body of Stamey Elliott, who fell in the battle of Chateau Thierry, has arrived in New York, and, in accordance with the wishes of his mother, it will be placed in the national cemetery at Arlington, Va., there to rest with thousands of others of America's heroic dead.

Word that the body had arrived from overseas came by wire to the mother, Mrs. Martha Elliott, 706 East Walnut.

Stamey Elliott was one of the contingent of thirty-five Santa Ana men from Company L, 160th infantry, who went from Camp Kearney to France in June, 1918. Scattered to different companies, nearly every one of these men saw some of the hardest fighting in which Americans participated. They were in the front line continuously, generally without the protection of artillery.

Stamey was transferred to the 58th infantry and was a member of a squad of men headed by Jacob Fisher, of Santa Ana, who, later in the fighting was awarded first a medaille militaire by the French government and later a distinguished service cross by the Americans.

"We were advancing on August 7, 1918," said Fisher in telling of the end that came to his comrade, Stamey. "We were under direct fire of German machine guns, running forward, throwing ourselves on the ground, firing and running forward again. Stamey was in my squad. I heard him call out, 'Good-by, Fish; I'll see you later!' I twisted my head around and saw him sitting up on a stretcher as he was being carried away. He waved his hand. I didn't think, at that time, he was badly wounded. I learned later, after his death, that he had six or eight machine gun bullets through the abdomen."

Stamey Elliott was a brother of Floyd Elliott, who was with the 364th infantry supply train. Floyd's home is with his mother.

TO CONTINUE CLASSES.

MODESTO—So successful has been the vacation schools being conducted in three Modesto school houses this summer that it has been decided to continue the classes for another month.

The name of the letter Q comes from the French "queue" meaning a tail, as the letter is O without a tail.

PROBE WOMAN'S DEATH UNDER AUTO WHEELS

An inquest over the body of Mrs. Martha A. Mathews, 54, who died of injuries sustained Tuesday night when she was struck by an automobile, was being conducted this afternoon by Coroner Charles D. Brown at the Smith and Tutthill undertaking parlors.

Funeral services for the deceased will be held tomorrow afternoon at 2 o'clock at the Smith and Tutthill chapel. Services at the grave will be in charge of Sycamore Rebekah lodge.

Mrs. Mathews was struck by an automobile driven by Clarence Maag, 15, of Fairhaven avenue, while she was crossing the intersection of Grand avenue and Seventeenth street. The accident occurred about 8 o'clock in the evening. She died at the Community hospital about three hours later. An examination showed that her skull was fractured and both arms were broken.

Mrs. Mathews was taken to the Community hospital by young Maag and Nick V. D. Broek, of Orange, who was riding with him when the accident happened.

Miss L. B. Doby, of Los Angeles, who was severely injured when the automobile in which she was riding was struck by an auto truck Tuesday afternoon, is on the road to recovery, according to word today from the Community hospital, where she was removed following the accident. It was first reported that Miss Doby had sustained a possible fracture of the skull. X-ray examinations revealed the fact that no bones were broken. She suffered considerably, however, from shock, bruises and minor lacerations. The accident occurred at the corner of First street and Grand avenue.

Worthy Ambition

Who is there who does not want to grow, to improve himself, to raise each day a little nearer to the stars!

Wrapped up in the personality of every person there are possibilities. It is what you do with these possibilities that decides your place in the world.

Wrapped up in every human mind there is ambition.
The greatest mind that ever wielded power on the earth was once quite ignorant. But it unfolded and went earnestly to work.

It is the ambition of the Mission Funeral Home to build up a service here that will be of the greatest comfort and convenience to the community. We are striving constantly to grow in efficiency and usefulness—to be always awake to the possibilities of improving the service which we can render to our fellow man.

U. S. ATTORNEY
UNDER FIRE IN LEGION ROW

United Press Leased Wire
WASHINGTON, July 21.—Attorney General Daugherty today wired the district attorney at San Francisco to investigate charges recently made against Assistant District Attorney Thomas L. Lennon. The charges allege misconduct in and out of office,
Daugherty said.

Daugherty directed that the result of the Lennon investigation be sent to Washington.

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Thos.
Lloyd Lennon, deputy United States attorney, last night resigned from San Francisco Post No. 1 of the American Legion.

Lennon's resignation followed an investigation of the charges of Chas.
H. Kendyk that his name had been forged to a telegram withdrawing his candidacy for the commandership of the post.

The Legion refused to give Lennon a vote of confidence as a result of the forgery investigation.

Lennon was recently temporarily relieved from duty as deputy federal district attorney pending the sifting of the charges.

The alleged forged telegram was sent from Chicago and signed with Kendyk's name during a fight between two factions for the leadership of the local Legion.

Charged, in two separate complaints, with violating the county prohibition ordinance, Jack Talamentes, proprietor of a rooming house at Los Alamitos, today was confined in the Orange county jail in default of $6000 bail, Judge Cox having fixed his bail at $300 on each count.

Talamentes will be tried August 23 at 10 o'clock.

According to Deputy Sheriff Herman J. Zabel, two quart bottles of wine confiscated in the raid are being held in evidence against the prisoner.

The raid was enacted late last night by Sheriff C. E. Jackson, Under Sheriff E. E. French and Deputies Zabel and C. M. Wood.

The officers claim they caught one man in the act of buying liquor from Talamentes. They also searched his rooming house from the basement to the attic, but failed to find an alleged supply of liquor.

Measurements made by Hill and Son today disclosed that .04 of inch of dampness was precipitated here by the freak rain late yesterday afternoon. It was called a rain by courtesy, for it was decidedly out of order here.

The little drops of moisture came down in regular winter storm fashion for a few minutes about 4:30 o'clock in the afternoon. The drizzle of the early afternoon and the hard showers later were sufficient to make the paved streets and sidewalks slippery. Skidding was much in evidence, both with automobiles and pedestrians.

Some pedestrians declared that sidewalks never were as slippery under winter rains as they were with the precipitation of yesterday. The rain was general throughout the Southland, but reports from other sections do not show a fall equal to that recorded here, except in mountain regions.

July rains are decidedly irregular in Southern California. Records show that there were traces of rain for the month in 1914, 1916 and 1905.

SCHOOL SHOW INCREASE
CORONA—Corona schools made a rapid growth during the past school year. Evidence of this fact is seen in the fact that the Corona school board is advertising for bids for the construction of two temporary one-room buildings.

IS YOUR WORK
WEARING YOU OUT?

Are you working day in and day out with a dull, dragging backache?
Is your work slowly weakening your kidneys? Many kinds of work wear out the kidneys, and kidney trouble makes any work hard. It brings morning lameness, backache, headaches, dizziness, nervousness, and distressing urinary disorders. If your work strains your kidneys, help your kidneys with Doan's Kidney Pills. Workers everywhere rely on Doan's. Ask your neighbor.

I was unable to get any sleep and felt stiff and lame in the morning.
My kidneys acted too often, causing me to get up at night. I had head-

TRIAL OF PAIR WHO 'CROWNED' MAN WITH BOTTLE IS DISMISSED

"There are no witnesses here and we cannot proceed without them," Deputy District Attorney C. N. Mozley informed Justice Cox, before whom were Ramon Rosales and Atanazio Badillo, accused of "crowning" Carlos Baragosa with a beer bottle.

"I am not familiar with the circumstances of this case, and do not propose to go to the bat without witnesses," Mozley continued.

Stating that it was not his fault that there were no witnesses, Justice Cox discharged the jurors, of whom there were fifteen present. There was "no use putting the county to the expense of summoning another venue," Cox said. The witnesses had been subpoenaed.

Incidentally, the jurymen will each get $1.65 for their services, although the trial did not materialize.

The case was dismissed.
Charles D. Swanner was attorney for the defendants.

OIL LURES STATE'S EYES, SAYS VISITOR

"Wherever men of affairs fore-gather in the Bay district, the conversation eventually turns to the oil development of Orange county," said Dr. Thomas R. Randall, prominent physician of San Francisco, here today. "The eyes of the whole state seem to be on Orange county.
I have spent two days, now, roaming about its highways and byways, after an absence of six years and I am returning home tonight firmly convinced that this county is, indeed, 'nature's prolific wonderland.'"

"The marvelous growth of Santa Ana, Anaheim, Fullerton and Orange is a revelation to me—it is like magic. And I am deeply impressed with your harbor improvements—that is another Orange county enterprise that one hears a great deal about nowadays. I have always considered Orange county just about the most beautiful section in the state and after this visit
I am returning home more satisfied than ever that it is, indeed."

Dr. Randall is accompanied by Mrs. Randall and they have made their vacation headquarters in Los Angeles, motoring to various sections of the Southland from there, as fancy willed.

UP-STATE NEWS

TAPT—The first of the sanitary drinking fountains to be installed in front of the different markets of the city has been placed in front of the California market on Center street. This one was given to the city through the Woman's Improvement club, and not only fills a long-felt want for a place where the public may quench its thirst, but is a real ornament to the street.

OKDALE—Al Turner, who spent his early days on Hog hill, near Cop-peropolis, where he won fame lasso-ing coyotes, bears and other wild animals, made a new record this week, when he lassoed a rattlesnake from the bottom of the well on the Sunnyside ranch, owned by I. H. Watson at Knights Ferry.

WOODLAND—Birth certificates for the first Japanese twins ever born in Yolo county have just been filed. They are Teijiro Yagi and To-motsu Yagi, of Clarksburg. County Recorder Lee R. Pierce predicts that it will be Agnes and Tom Yagi before the year is out. The Japanese birth rate continues to average about 20 per cent of the whole.

ST. HELENA—The St. Gothard Inn property, which for the past year has been owned by Beringer Bros.
of this place and which for ten years was conducted by the late H. Schultz as a tourist hotel, has just been sold to Dr. Constant Broniscoe and wife, of San Francisco. The new owners have taken possession and are having the buildings painted and renovated and entirely refurnished, and on August 1 will reopen the place as a home for convalescents.

PLACERVILLE—The teaching staff of the El Dorado county high school has finally been selected by the board of education. P. V. Knowles will be the principal, with the following faculty: W. G. Collier, history; Alice Levy, music and languages; C. A.
Bly, agriculture; Kathryn Farquhar, domestic science; Helen Flege, commercial; Irene Reeves, Georgetown branch, and H. Watkinson, manual training. The present board of education will be automatically removed from office on August 10, when the new law requiring an elective board goes into effect.

MERCED—Fifteen inspectors are being employed by Merced county in exterminating the squirrels on the range land in this county. They are being assisted by the ranchers and Horticultural Commissioner Beers states that excellent results are be-

SUGAR MILLS IN COUNTY READY TO LAUNCH CAMPAIGN

Number of Beet Men Notified To Begin Plowing Next Monday

LABOR SUPPLY AMPLE

Crews Employed for Several Months Getting the Plants Ready

That the Santa Ana Sugar company's plant at Dyer will start turning beets into sugar August 1, was the definite announcement today by C. L. Killin, superintendent of the big mill.

The Huntington Beach Sugar company will probably start the same day, it was intimated, although no definite word has been given. The Southern California mill, located on South Main street, the other concern owned by the Holly Sugar company in Orange county, will not operate this year.

Word has been sent out by the field managers of two plants that will run this season to several beet growers under contract, to start plowing next Monday.

From the fields the beets will be loaded into cars and run to the dumps of the two mills to await the whistle which will send the first of Orange county's 1921 crop into the mills. Growers near the factories deliver by wagon.

Sees 100-Day Campaign
Superintendent Killin of the Santa Ana mill estimated today that the 1921 campaign would last 100 days, or about until November 10, and that this year's run would exceed last year's by approximately 10,000 tons. Last year the Santa Ana plant handled 185,000 tons. Killin expects this year's run will be closer to 195,000 tons.

While there is probably a little less acreage this year than last, the beet crop seems to be about as good and will probably average as high in sugar content, it was said. The closing of the Southern California factory means that more beets will be handled at the Santa Ana and the Huntington Beach plants than last year.

Both mills are said to be ready for the first shipment of beets. Forces of men have been employed at both plants for more than a month preparing for the campaign. Repairs, cleaning, painting and all of the necessary tuning up is over and the mills are ready for the word to go.

Return to Old Plan
The Holly Sugar company has decided to return to the old plan of two twelve-hour shifts, each running from 7 to 7. Wages will be comparatively the same as last year. There has been no labor shortage apparent at the mills, it is said, and all of the stations have been filled with experienced men. Cards will soon be mailed, to those employed, by the foreman of each department telling each applicant what he is to do and

$20,000 Residence Will Be Built At Corner Seventeenth, Broadway

Work is expected to start next week on the foundation for a $20,000 residence to be erected on the southwest corner of Seventeenth street and Broadway for Sam Hurwitz, Santa Ana merchant.

W. M. Rohrbacher has been awarded the contract under plans drawn two or three months ago by W. W. Kays, architect. Awarding of the contract has been delayed for several weeks, pending definite decision by Hurwitz to proceed with the building program.

The residence will have two stories, with ten rooms. It will be of tile veneer construction, Spanish and Italian architecture being combined in the design.

The lot has a frontage on Broadway of 97 feet and depth of 167 feet. The residence will be set back fifty feet from Broadway. A cement driveway will lead from Broadway to the garage at the rear and from the garage to Seventeenth street, making it possible to drive from either street into the garage and out to either street without having to turn a car around.

A large lawn will be maintained, raised eighteen inches above the sidewalk and terraced on the front. A modern sprinkling plant will be installed.

KELLY AND HUMPHRIES ACQUIRE TWO HOUSES AT 18TH, BROADWAY

D. N. Kelly and O. W. Humphries, both identified with the Abstract and Title Guaranty company, this week maneuvered themselves into the ownership of North Broadway residence property.

The old D. F. Bartlett property, on the northwest corner of Eighteenth street and Broadway, consisting of two houses, is their new possession.

They acquired it in an exchange of five acres of apricots on Irvine boulevard, in the Tustin district, to C. B. Maston. The consideration on each side was $10,000.

O. L. Bolton, real estate dealer, negotiated the exchange.

NEW BOOKLET TELLS COUNTY RESOURCES

Issued under the direction of the board of supervisors and edited by County Purchasing Agent F. W. Slabaugh, 20,000 copies of a new booklet enumerating and picturing the resources of Orange county are being distributed.

There are twenty-four pages in the booklet, measuring 8 by 9 inches. The highest grade of glazed paper was used in the booklets and the many illustrations are as clear and perfect in detail as the original photographs from which they were made.

The cover is a work of art, it is printed in various colors and pictures nature's prolific wonderland in all its splendor. At the left is pictured a huge palm tree and at the right an orange tree. Between the two there is a beautiful landscape.

BAKER ST. FOLK VISIONING OIL WELL RICHES

Propose To Lease Big Acreage To Reputable Companies

Formations disclosed in the water well on Baker street, near Seventeenth, recently completed by the city, have more or less excited residents of that vicinity as to the possibilities of uncovering oil.

These formations as disclosed, together with other indications, have caused efforts to be made to organize holdings of between 1100 and 1200 acres for offering as a lease to one of six big oil companies.

A number of property owners within the district embraced between Baker street and Buena station, west of the river, and Seventeenth and Fifth streets, already have held meetings to discuss the project. The latest conference was held last night at the office of Attorney H. C. Head. Twenty owners were present.

Takes Initiative
L. H. Brooks, who resides near the corner of Seventeenth and Baker, has taken the initiative in the effort to organize the acreage. It is said that the owners are enthusiastic over the proposition and many have expressed their willingness to join in a leasing plan.

Some, however, do not want to participate in a community lease, but are willing to sign their lands to the company most acceptable to the majority of the owners, under condition that their property be considered as an individual lease.

An agreement is being worked out under which all may sign, obligating themselves to enter into a lease, some under the community plan and others as individuals.

Committee Named
It is the belief of the owners that the offer of a lease on 1100 or 1200 acres will be an inducement to some one of the six big oil companies to undertake the work and expense of prospecting the section.

Messrs. Hood, Faulkner and Gardner have been appointed a committee to feel out the property owners and see how many are willing to sign an agreement to lease. Another meeting will be held next Monday it is understood. In the meantime, the committee will interview as many of the property owners as possible.

It is said that geologists concede that a third and undiscovered anticline runs through Orange county. It is believed to exist some 400 feet below the surface but as yet has not been uncovered in borings already made.

OPEN BIDS TUESDAY FOR 17TH ST. BRIDGE

Residents of the Berrydale and Garden Grove sections are anticipating the session of the board of supervisors next Tuesday with keen interest, for bids are to be opened for the construction of a bridge on Seventeenth street across the Santa Ana river.

The bids will be opened at 11 a. m. The bridge is to be 704 feet long.

Goes To Kansas. Finds Santa Ana Lure Too Great, Returns, Buys

G. E. Williams sold his home ranch, corner of Seventeenth and Maybury, one year ago to F. B. Royce and with his wife returned to Abeline, Kan., with the announced intention of remaining in that state.

Now he is again a resident of this vicinity and the owner of a small ranch property in the Tustin district. He had lived here too long ever again to be content with the Kansas climate and he learned to appreciate the beauties of this section and the climate.

He has paid $20,000 for a three and a quarter-acre orange grove that he might call his very own. He made the purchase from E. R. Maury, taking the tract at the corner of First street and Prospect avenue, upon which Maury's home was located.

Maury has divided his eleven and a quarter-acre ranch into four blocks, two facing on First street and two on Rice street, for quick disposal.

He will surrender his home to Williams in a week or ten days, when he will move to Hollywood to reside, having already purchased a residence there. Mrs. Williams will return from Kansas later.

Harris brothers were agents in the sale to Williams.

FORMER CITY CLERK OF LAMAR, COL., IS NOW S. A. RESIDENT

Samuel E. Cook, former city clerk at Lamar, Col., is to become a permanent resident of this city and may engage in business. As the initial step in establishing a permanent home here he has purchased the J. H. Dietz residence at 1907 Bush street, through the agency of Smith and Irwin, Harry Smith being the agent.

Mrs. Cook and son came here some time ago upon a visit. The longer they continued their visit the more determined they became to make their home here. Their letters to Cook, telling of this wonderland, soon brought him here. He succumbed to the lure of this section. He has disposed of his interests at Lamar.

The same firm reports the sale to N. E. Beisel, manager of Broadway, of the residence of Marie DeLong at 417 Cypress avenue. Beisel resides on his ranch at Tustin and it is understood that he has bought the Santa Ana property and will move into the city so that his children may have the benefit of the Santa Ana schools. It is said that he does not contemplate the sale of his ranch.

YEAR'S BUILDING TOTAL $756,077

Of the sixteen building permits issued during the past week at the office of W. S. Decker, city building inspector, the greater number were for alterations and repairs. The sum involved in the building operations was $26,785, which brings the total for July to date $73,520, with a total of fifty-five permits issued.

The figures for the year to date show that 528 permits have been issued from the office, with a total valuation of $756,077.

Decker stated that the past week was a peculiar one in the respect that there were two days when no permits were issued, which fact is without precedent in any other week of the year.

The permits issued were as follows:
Roy Russell, additional expense and garage, apartment permit No. 7198, H. L. Bosworth, contractor; $2000.
Anna Noble, 606 Lacy street, dwelling, 718 West Sixth street, H. L. Bosworth, builder; $3600.
T. V. McClurkin, 932 West Highland; chicken house; $100.
J. D. Parsons, 106 East Chestnut, apartment house, 114 and 116 East Chestnut street; R. C. McMillen, builder; $6000.
Addition of roof tower, Santa Ana Walnut Growers' association; F. S. Bishop, builder; $2500.
George and F. G. Spencer, 113 Haladay, alterations and additions to dwelling at 308 North Garnsey; $1000.
C. H. Willoughby, 601 Hickey, alterations and additions; $100.
Earl Gables, 722 South Garnsey, dwelling house; $3200.
L. B. Elliot, 1006 North Main, wreck and rebuild garage; $25.
Welby West, 1002 West Second, wreck and rebuild dwelling; $2000.
J. Pimental, 1816 West Second, garage; $50.
George A. Barrows, 111 West Third, dwelling and garage at 613 South Flower street; $3000.
George A. Barrows, 111 West Third, dwelling and garage at 617 South Flower street; $3000.
E. A. Strucklin, 1128 West First, frame garage at 1222 West First; $75.
C. L. Devine, 305 West First, wreck old barn and rebuild into garage; $600.
George C. Post, 615 West First, addition to dwelling; $135.

SUCCESSFUL WOMAN FARMER RETIRES

FRESNO, July 21—One of Fresno county's most prominent farmers is Mrs. Morgan Baird of this city, who, since the death of her husband six years ago, has operated a fruit farm of 160 acres, fifteen miles east of the city, and conducted 2300 acres of grain farm and a stock ranch of 1400 acres.

ENROLLMENT IN SCHOOLS 4322 IN ONE YEAR

Big Sum Needed For Educational Institutions, Report Shows

That a vast sum of money goes into maintenance and operation of the kindergarten, elementary and high schools of Santa Ana was disclosed today by the annual report submitted by J. A. Cranston, superintendent of schools, to the board of education.

The expenses aggregated $458,435.60 for the year ending July 30, 1921, according to the report.

The cost of the kindergarten, with an average daily attendance of 195, was $11,664.07, or an average per pupil of $60.

For the elementary a total of $168,566.61 was expended, or an average of $72.15 per pupil, the average attendance being 2166.

The total cost of the high school and junior college was made than the total cost of the other two branches, being $278,204.92. The average daily attendance for the high school and college was 1072, with the cost per pupil $140.15.

4322 on Rolls.
The total enrollment of all schools was 4322, the boys and girls splitting about fifty-fifty as to numbers. The boys numbered 2143, with the girls credited as being represented in the larger number by the small margin of thirty, their number being 2173.

Increase over the 1920 enrollment shows a total of 543, distributed 61 to kindergarten, 188 to elementary and 294 to two higher branches.

Total enrollment for the seven kindergarten schools was 372; for the ten elementary schools 2620; for the high school 1207 and for junior college 123.

Disbursements for the kindergartens were $10,344.91 for teachers, $85.55 for janitors, $363.27 for supplies, $150.40 for apparatus; elementary schools general control $4415.71, teachers $127,527.16, other expenses of instruction $3713.60, library $1788.67, operation of plant $12,301.52, maintenance of plant $2436.56, fixed charges $1571.19, capita outlay $12,672.97, auxiliary agencies $2139.23; for high and junior college $5663.48, for general control, $102,538.17 teachers, $5435.43 instructional expense, $12,773.27 library, texts, etc., $9710.81 operation of plant, $2776.86 maintenance, $1721.35 fixed charges, $106,762.92 auditorium, $13,172.97 capita outlay, $9580.30 auxiliary agencies.

Income $541,061.
Including balances on hand at the opening of the year and income from all sources, receipts for the year were $541,061.54. The kindergarten tax rate of 13 cents brought in $11,786.58.

The income for the elementary schools was $35,202.49 from state apportionment, $94,105.99 from county apportionment, $27,323.54 from district maintenance, $6725.89 building tax, $75,000 bond sale and $231.08 miscellaneous, a total of $233,305.63.

The high school and junior college finances were developed from the following sources: State apportionment, $9457.56; county apportionment, $83,064.70; special district, $67,302.94; building, $116.57; refunds shops, telephones, etc., $939.34; tuition, $5619.27; transportation, $16,503.63; total, $183,004.21.

How Big Is Santa Ana?

"How big was Alexander, pa?" and "How old is Ann?" These and other famous questions are relegated to back seats in the forum by the question, How big is Santa Ana?

The Federal census taken in the spring of 1920 gave Santa Ana a population of 15,485. But it was very generally believed that, despite the efforts of the Chamber of Commerce and the co-operation of public spirited citizens generally, the Federal enumeration was incomplete.

Soon after the Federal census was taken we began to build houses in Santa Ana at the rate of a day and we kept it up at that rate for three or four months. Then building activities tapered off to two a day and then to one a day. Say we've built an average of two houses a day for the past ten months, a total of 600 houses, each housing, on the average, three persons, indicating an increase in population of 1800. On this basis we have a total population of 17,285.

The Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and members of the Santa Ana Realty board are quoting the population of Santa Ana at 20,000. They believe that figure is justified by the increase in the population of the city since the Federal census was taken, and by the number of names in the city directory, the number of water taps in the city and the number of registered voters.

Publishers of the directory at the time of its issuance, November 26, 1920, estimated the population at 21,600, using as the basis of their computations the number of names in the book. The alphabetical section of the directory contains 9600 names of adults over 18 years of age and exclusive of the wife's name, which is shown on the same line with the husband's. Using the conservative multiple of 2 1/4, the publishers estimated the population at 21,600.

What is the average number of persons per family in Santa Ana? Upon that question hinges more or less anything like a definite estimate of the population of the city. Five is the basis upon which population figures are estimated. Were this figure used in arriving at the population on the basis of the number of water taps in the municipal water system, Santa Ana should be credited with 25,255 souls. Mrs. Laura Murray, of the city water department, says that four persons to the tap is nearer correct for Santa Ana. She says this is conservative. On that basis the population of Santa Ana is 20,180, for there are 5045 service connections of record in the water office today. Many apartment houses are being erected for two or more families are served through one water connection, according to Mrs. Murray. Between January 1, 1920, and yesterday, July 20, 1921, 644 connections were made, indicating an increase of population in the year and six and a half months of 2656, carrying out the ratio of four persons to each tap. Up to date for this year 190 taps have been made.

Coming down to the registered voters of the city, County Clerk J. M. Backs' registration books disclose that 7249 the alphabetical section of the books prior to the election last November. He estimates that since that time the number has been increased by 300 or 400. Making it an even 7500, for the convenience of figuring in round numbers, and use the multiple of two, which is the equivalent to the basis of four per person in computing on the water taps, we have a population of 15,000. Who will say the registration is more than 60 per cent of the men and women eligible to registration? No one! Thus we have a population on this basis of 25,000.

Analysis of the various forms of determining population, aside from an actual count, point to Santa Ana having a population of 20,000 or better, and The Register believes that residents of the city are justified in quoting these figures when asked with reference to the population.

But after all—and harking back to the question of "How big was Alexander?"—the thought comes, of the city as of the old warrior, that not for stature makes it great but "greatness of its name." That is its greatness in resources, attractions, advantages, possibilities. In these respects Santa Ana looms large.

BRIEF BITS OF BUILDING NEWS

REDDING—The Christian Scientists of Redding have purchased a centrally located lot as the site for a church they will erect at an early date. For several years they have occupied rented quarters.

FRESNO—Construction will start this week on a branch postoffice building, which will be ready for occupancy not later than December 1. Acting Postmaster George W. Turner has been notified that the proposal of Dr. F. L. R. Burks of Fresno has been accepted. The branch post office will have a greater floor space than the present building. The city distribution will be moved to this building.

VISALIA—Election of the Louest Grove school district will vote August 18 on a proposal to bond the district for $12,000, with which to make school improvements. The electors have some time considered the matter of school improvements and have waited until prices of building materials lowered sufficiently to feel that construction may safely be carried on.

LOS GATOS—Working under a new school law, a high school district is being formed which includes Saratoga, Los Gatos, Lexington, Lakeside, Union, Austin and Wright. This will give the combined district an assessed valuation of $6,000,000.

HUNTINGTON BEACH IN BUILDING RUSH

Building activity on Main street, continues, with the result that new business houses are being added to the business district. The latest project is the erection of another concrete building in the second block on Main street on the west side of the block. This will make the fourth structure of that character in the block. The building will be of two-stories. It will be built for J. E. Farwell, of Huntington Beach, and W. P. Wilson, of Los Angeles. The ground floor has been rented for a millinery and women's furnishing store.

The second story will contain ten rooms and has not yet been rented. The building is to be 25 feet wide and 70 in length, and Ridenour brothers are the builders.

The structure in the same block being erected by the W. L. Evans Realty company is nearing completion. In the first block on Main the red brick building of C. F. Nemo, of Los Angeles, is progressing.

Many bungalow courts and houses are being erected in different parts of the city.

Catching and Catching have the contract for the construction of a new five-room residence at Seventeenth and Olive for Mr. and Mrs. James H. Macklin.

MARKED GAIN IN HOUSE DEMAND BY NEWCOMERS TO CITY, IS REVEALED

Realty Dealers Point Out Big Increase In Number of Arrivals

URGE BUILDING DRIVE

Santa Ana Needs Residences and More Residences, Is Shown

There is a marked increase from day to day in the number of persons flocking to Santa Ana.

Real estate dealers here today were authority for this statement. The demand for residences has apparently been increasing in the past two weeks.

One realty operator stated that the present demand for houses by newcomers to the city is even greater than it was during the period last year when the local realty board considered the establishment of a tent city to provide for the influx.

Urge Building Drive
Real estate dealers expressed the opinion that people should build and keep on building because Santa Ana is growing more than it has before in its history.

That the demand has exceeded the supply of houses in Santa Ana for several years has been an established fact, but, according to Freeman Bloodgood, local real estate dealer, the demand is as great now as it has ever been.

"We need fully one million dollars to build houses in Santa Ana," said Bloodgood. "Building is slack, while the demand is increasing. 'People are flocking here this summer as much as they did last year and about the time school opens in September the demand for homes here will be greater than ever.'

"People are coming in from all over the country; from Imperial to get out of the heat and from the North to get the advantages of our climate. Many are coming from the East. Of all these newcomers, many are coming for good if they can get suitable accommodations."

Many Seek Homes
That an average of ten persons a day is applying for houses here was the statement of J. A. Dowell, of the firm of Livesey and Dowell.

"The demand for residences in the past few weeks has been unequalled to my knowledge," said Dowell. "People in the East seem to be packing up bag and baggage and coming to California. They seem to be dissatisfied with conditions there and are coming prepared to stay."

"My brother-in-law, L. J. Cleland, of Greenfield, Ia., has never before been a booster for California, but he has written that he is coming to Santa Ana and wants to make this his home."

Roy Russell, of the firm of Shaw and Russell, has found the demand for houses recently somewhat greater than before. He predicts that the influx to Santa Ana this winter will be almost as great as that last year.

What Makes Wrinkles and Crow's Feet?

Personal appearance and cultured grace are the two elements which determine the social standing of a woman or a man. Every social obligation is a demand on your personal appearance.

In considering this all important question of appearance it is well to remember that eye glasses play as big a part as clothes. Prolonged eyestrain causes wrinkles and "crow's-feet." A strained, anxious, tired, drawn countenance is a common result.

If you need glasses, or if the glasses you now wear are not an asset to your appearance, call and let us show you what a little understanding of this subject will do for you.

GIRL TENNIS MARVEL IS PRIDE OF FRANCE

Mlle. Lenglen To Meet Bitter Competition In American Court Clashes

United Press Leased Wire

NEW YORK, July 21.—France lost her superman when Georges Carpentier went down. She is now pinning her national pride on her superwoman, Mlle. Suzanne Lenglen, the queen of the tennis courts.

Uncle Sam, to meet the invasion of one as superb in her line as Carpentier was supposed to be in his, has called back to the courts two of his greatest, Mrs. May Sutton Bundy and Miss Mary K. Browne.

The two great California women are here practicing daily to get in form to defend America's honors against an invader that records prove to be almost invincible.

Both Mrs. Bundy and Miss Browne contradict the popular theory that a woman must talk. Neither will say a word on what they are going to do in the national championships at Forest Hills, starting August 15, when they are to meet the French girl.

Several officials of the U. S. Lawn Tennis association and many tennis fans watched Mrs. Bundy play at Forest Hills. They agree with the reports coming from the coast that she seemed close to the game of old that ranked her as one of the greatest women players.

scape and water scene. In the foreground there is pictured a beach scene with a pier and bathhouse extending into the water. Back of this are pictured orange groves, oil wells and prosperous farming country. Snow-capped mountains tower in the background.

The reading matter on the first page consists of a welcome to the tourist or homeseeker. This is followed by descriptive matter showing the location of the county and facts dealing with Orange county in general.

Other features covered in the booklet are soils, water supply, transportation facilities, climate, healthfulness, schools, churches, recreational advantages, Orange county's harbor and practically every city and community in the county.

The oil industry is fully elucidated. Considerable space is also given to the orange, lemon, walnut and sugar beet industries. The farm bureau and the various civic organizations are also well accounted for. On the back cover there is a map of the county and there are six pictures of the county's coast line.

Among the many illustrations are pictures of beach scenes, an artesian well flowing 125 miners inches, the Tustin grammar school, which is typical of the grammar schools of the county, the "White Temple" church at Anaheim, scenes in Orange county's 160-acre park, St. Ann's Inn, some of the county's highways, the San Juan Capistrano mission, a country home, a chicken ranch, oil wells, orange groves, etc. The booklets were printed by A. G. Slabaugh said that the booklet would be distributed to every civic organization in the county. A supply will also be kept on hand in his office at the courthouse. The books are to be distributed free of charge.

PITTSBURGH BLANKS ADVANCING BRAVES

BOSTON, Mass., July 21.—Cooper pitched admirably in the pinches, leading Pittsburg to a 2 to 0 victory over Boston. Score: Pittsburg.....2 10 1 Boston.....0 8 1 Pittsburg, Cooper and Schmidt; Boston, Oeschger and O'Neill.

REDS NOSE OUT GIANTS

NEW YORK, July 21.—Rixey had the better of Honey in a pitching duel and Cincinnati won its first game in New York this season, 2 to 1. Cincinnati.....2 9 0 New York.....1 8 0 Cincinnati, Rixey and Hargrave; New York, Toney, Benton and Snyder.

CARDS DOWN DODGERS

BROOKLYN, July 21.—Left Prough pitched his first game for St. Louis against Brooklyn and won, 8 to 5. The Cardinals knocked Grimes and Reuther out of the box. St. Louis.....8 15 4 Brooklyn.....5 12 6 St. Louis, Pfeffer and Clemons; Brooklyn, Grimes, Reuther, Mitchell and Miller.

CUBS AND PHILS DIVIDE

PHILADELPHIA, July 21.—Chicago divided a double header with Philadelphia here yesterday. By getting to George Smith and Betts for 23 hits, the Cubs won the first game, 10 to 1. In the second game, Hubbell blanked Chicago, 8 to 0. In the first game Malsel had five hits in five times up. (First Game) Chicago.....10 23 1 Philadelphia.....0 6 1 Chicago, Alexander and Daly, Kilfliter; Philadelphia, C. Smith, Betts and Ensign, Lee. (Second Game) Chicago.....0 7 1 Philadelphia.....8 12 2 Chicago, York, Tyler and Daly, Wertz; Philadelphia, Hubbell and Peters.

SEALS DOWN PORTLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Errors were largely responsible for Portland's defeat by San Francisco yesterday, 5 to 4. Hale dropped Kelly's pop fly in the first inning, letting in Shick and Ellison, while Krug's error in the third inning gave the Seals one tally. Three hits brought in two more runs in the same frame. Portland.....4 8 3 San Francisco.....5 8 2 Portland—Ross and Fisher; San Francisco, Lewis and Agnew.

BETTER GAS PROMISED FOR CITRUS BELT

CORONA, July 21.—The railroad commission has given its sanction to the purchase by the Southern California Gas company of the gas systems and franchises of the Citrus Belt Gas company in the cities of Redlands, Colton and San Bernardino, San Bernardino county and in the city of Corona, Riverside county. To finance the transaction the Southern California Gas company was permitted to issue $365,000 of its first and refunding mortgage 20-year 7 per cent gold bonds to be delivered in part payment for the properties; or it may sell the bonds at not less than 97 and pay cash. The commission found that the Citrus Belt Gas company was unable to give satisfactory service and the Southern California company has promised to improve conditions.

YANKEE TEAM JUMPS INTO FIRST PLACE

CLEVELAND, July 21.—New York went into first place when it defeated Cleveland, 7 to 1. Shawkey was unusually effective, holding the champions to six hits and striking out nine men. Cleveland escaped a shutout when Smith hit over the right field wall for a home run. Ruth reached first base three times, three of which he scored. He received one base on balls, was hit by a pitched ball twice and got a single. New York.....7 10 0 Cleveland.....1 6 2 New York, Shawkey and Schang; Cleveland, Coveleskie, Morton and O'Neill.

SOX TRIM MACKMEN

CHICAGO, July 21.—Chicago won its fifth extra inning game in the past ten days when Philadelphia was defeated 3 to 2 in ten innings. The local victory was attributed to Johnson's hitting and base running and timely hitting by Collins and Strunk and the superb pitching of Wilkinsons. Philadelphia.....2 7 0 Chicago.....3 11 0 Philadelphia, Keefe, Rommel and Perkins; Chicago, Wilkinsons and Schalk.

BROWNS TRIM BOSTON

ST. LOUIS, July 21.—Overcoming a seven-run lead obtained off Davis in the first three innings, St. Louis defeated Boston 10 to 9 in twelve innings. Boston.....9 10 3 St. Louis.....10 22 2 Boston, Pennock, Russell, Karr and Ruel; St. Louis, Davis, Burwell, Koip, Palmer and Severeid.

TIGERS NOSE OUT SOLONS

DETROIT, July 21.—Veatch's double in the tenth inning gave Detroit a 2 to 1 victory over Washington. The game was a duel between Johnson and Leonard. Washington.....1 7 1 Detroit.....2 6 1 Washington, Johnson and Picinich; Detroit, Leonard and Bassler.

SAM CRAWFORD TOO MUCH FOR SEATTLE

LOS ANGELES, July 21.—Sam Crawford and his big stick brought grief to the Seattle camp in yesterday's game here. Sam advanced to the plate four times and the result each time was a resounding whack that resulted in considerable action of the bases. Two of Crawford's wallops were doubles. Sam's hits were needed, however, for the Indians were right on the heels of the Angels at all stages of the game. Seattle.....5 11 2 Los Angeles.....6 9 1 Seattle—Gardner, Dalley and Spencer; Los Angeles, Reinhart, Hughes and Baldwin.

SOLONS DOWN TIGERS

SACRAMENTO, July 21.—Bill Prough demonstrated to the home fans that he is in the running for Coast league pitching honors again yesterday, when he hurled the Seals to a 6 to 2 victory over the Vernon Tigers with comparative ease. Only four bingles were garnered by the visitors off the delivery of the veteran Coaster, who was seldom in difficulty. Vernon.....2 4 2 Sacramento.....6 8 1 Vernon—Faeth, Love and Hannah; Sacramento, Prough and Elliott.

IT HAPPENS AGAIN

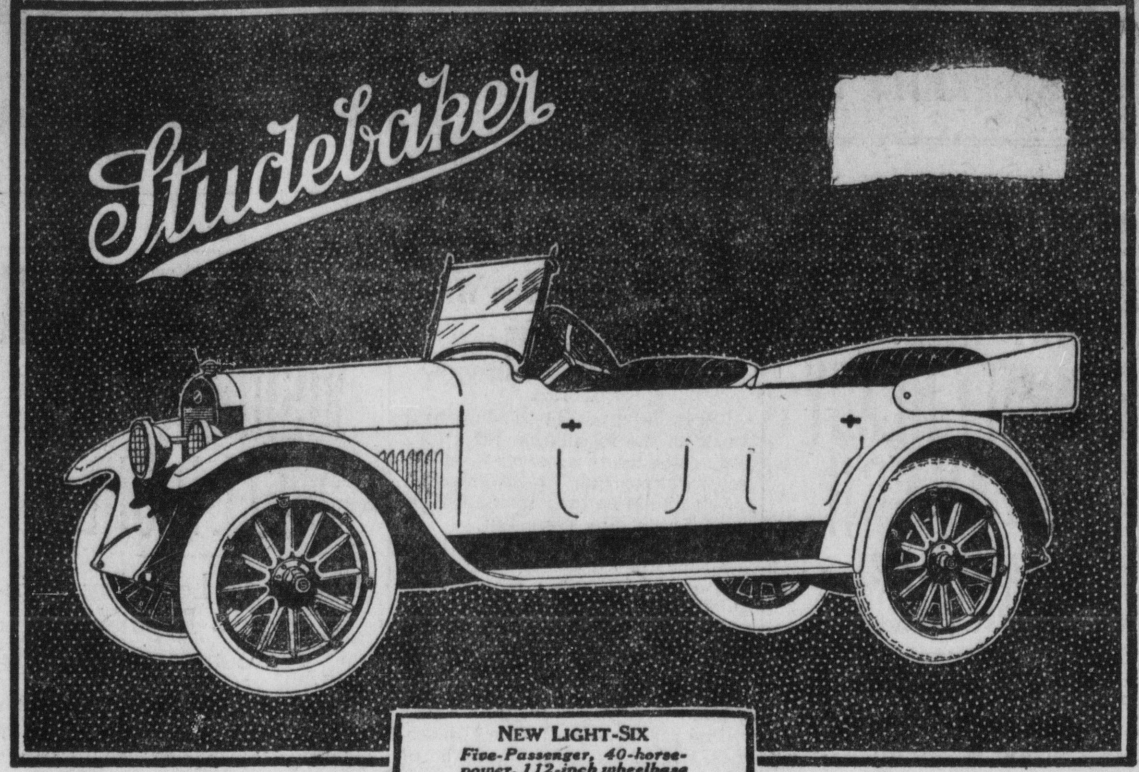

SALT LAKE CITY, Utah, July 21.—Oakland won an easy victory yesterday, taking the second game of the series, 17 to 7. The local pitchers were inefficient and received poor support. Knight and Strand hit home runs. Oakland.....17 21 3 Salt Lake.....7 14 4 Oakland—Winn, Valentine and Mitze; Salt Lake, Polson, Reiger, Brang and Byler.

SEALS DOWN PORTLAND

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Errors were largely responsible for Portland's defeat by San Francisco yesterday, 5 to 4. Hale dropped Kelly's pop fly in the first inning, letting in Shick and Ellison, while Krug's error in the third inning gave the Seals one tally. Three hits brought in two more runs in the same frame. ## ORANGE COUNTY NEWS

"THE BIGGEST LITTLE COUNTY ON EARTH"LARGE ACREAGE SUBDIVISION ANNOUNCED

BUENA PARK, July 21.—Much action in real estate circles is reported in this locality.

Ben Calloway is completing arrangements to subdivide twenty acres of his property on Orange-thorpe. This will be divided into acre tracts for good home sites or oil leases.

The six and one-half acres south of the school house are undergoing subdivision at the present time. This property will be divided into town lots.

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Mann in company with their children Eunice and Donald, and Beulah Nelson have returned from a vacation in Yosemite valley.

Mrs. Frank Jones, who underwent a serious operation at the Fullerton hospital last week, is recovering nicely and it is hoped that in the near future she will be able to be brought home.

Drilling on the Doheny well, just south of town continues at about 2,500 feet. At present they are passing through very hard shale.

Mrs. R. H. Meyer is driving a new coupe.

On Friday night at 8 o'clock a fine picture will be shown at the school hall featuring Will Rogers in "Jes' Call Me Jim."

The last two Sundays the Rev. Mr. Knight has preached in the First Congregational church of La Jolla, and has now received a unanimous call to become pastor of that church. The decision regarding the call will be announced on Sunday morning at the regular service.

Members of the Ramona Camp Fire Girls' organization are enjoying two weeks' vacation at De Luz, near Fallbrook. They are accompanied by their leader, Mrs. Schofield.

The party consists of Doris Williams, Bertha Robinson, Mamie, Wilhelmina and Bertha Sharp, Betty Berkey, Eunice Mann, Florence Schofield and Mildred Bacon. The girls and Mrs. Schofield are enjoying a very healthful and enjoyable vacation.

Much distress has been felt over the lowering of the water level and some of the wells in this neighborhood are dry until steps are taken to lower cylinders to reach the water level.

R. H. Meyer recently put on a new and very expensive motor on his pumping plant, only to have the well cave in. This will probably necessitate the drilling of a new well.

It is reported that the Globe Oil company has made all arrangements to drill in this vicinity and will commence the erection of a derrick as soon as certain legal papers have gone through their necessary formalities.

Miss Marie Crandell and Miss Nila Faulkner, teachers in the Buena Park grammar school are attending summer school and preparing for the next year's work.

Miss Irma Robison, who was injured in the wreck of the Southern Pacific motor the first of the year is at present in Los Angeles attending the trial in which she is suing the Southern Pacific company and the oil company combined for $50,000. The warm weather at this time and the nervous strain of the trial have been very severe on Miss Robison, who has not been strong since the accident and she has suffered a nervous collapse.

C. T. Tedford is erecting a new bungalow in the Hasson division.

CYPRESS

CYPRESS AND HANSEN, July 21.—Dick Wilking has been suffering for ten days with a bone feline. The doctors have not been able to relieve him to any extent.

Steve Luther is another victim of same affliction. Steve has not been able to sleep for a week.

Water levels are lower in the wells throughout this section than ever before. Many of the smaller domestic plants are not getting any water. There has not been as much irrigation this season as usual on account of the late rains.

A. S. Feagan was a business visitor in Los Angeles Monday.

The recent hot spell has ripened the beets very rapidly. The crop prospects are much better than last year.

PAGO PAGO JUDGE
BACK IN AMERICA

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Judge A. M. Noble, for the past four years chief judge and secretary of native affairs at Pago Pago, American Samoa, has arrived here en route to his home at Smithfield, N. C.

Things Worth Knowing
About Orange County

With breakers forever rolling in to lash themselves into foam on a rocky coast, with the restless sea at its front door and the rugged mountains and the beautiful canyon at its back door, Laguna Beach has been endowed by nature with assets that time and the hand of man can never change.

The shimmering sea, the sandy coves, the deep moss-grown sea channels, magnificent views from promontories and tablelands, the setting of the sun in wonderfully colored skies and the outline of the range against the blue heavens can never be taken from the charm of a coasting the like of which is not to be found elsewhere in all our country.

From Newport Bay to Serra, which is located at the mouth of San Juan creek, lies a wonderful stretch of coast, with rugged promontories and broken, rock-strewn points vying in attractiveness with cozy, quiet coves.

For sixteen miles the hills come down to the sea. Every foot of that sixteen miles has its point of vantage, its own entrancing picture.

Near the center of this wonderline lies Laguna Beach. A mile southeast of it is Arch Beach. The paved road to Laguna Beach comes in by way of Laguna canyon, from the state highway at Irvine. From Laguna, the cove and promontories are easily reached. There is already a road along the cliffs from Laguna southeastward to Serra, a distance of seven miles. Throughout the year automobile parties have their outings all along this section. In summer time, at the week end, scores of machines are driven to some favorite spot, and there tents are pitched for an over-night stay. Scores more of machines will arrive for a whole day's stay, and scores more for a stay of an hour or two.

Recently, a deed was given by the Irvine company for a state highway to be built from Newport Bay along the coast to Laguna Beach. At the present time there is a road, owned by the Irvine company, between the two points. The state highway, however, will eventually be paved.

In the village are stores, eating places, hotel, lumber yard, drug store, garages, newspaper and a number of smaller shops and real estate offices. The establishment of an art gallery at Laguna Beach has made the place the art center of Southern California. Where there were one or two studios there are now a dozen.

The number of artists associated with the movement is growing rapidly. Never an artist comes to the Pacific coast without visiting Laguna, and the usual thing is for him to see some of nature's pictures that he feels he must put on canvas. Thus Laguna's rocky points and sheltered coves and Laguna's canyon, with its sycamores and wind-carved rocks, fill the heart of the real artists with joy.

Most of the fishing done here is done by those who throw their lines in from rocks or beach. A few fishermen ply

BIRTHDAY SURPRISE
IS PLEASANT AFFAIR

TALBERT, July 21.—A delightful birthday surprise affair was given last Friday evening at the J. E. Melvin home at Newhope, the honorees of the occasion being Mrs. J. J. Woodson and Mrs. Melvin, whose anniversaries occur only a few days apart.

Mr. and Mrs. Melvin had invited the Rev. and Mrs. Woodson and daughters to take dinner with them that evening. Harold Melvin, Mable Lee Woodson and Alpha Gilbert took advantage of this to plan the surprise party. The honorees were altogether unsuspecting so when the guests began arriving it was two thoroughly surprised ladies greeted them and responded to the many hearty birthday greetings.

They were well remembered with pretty and useful gifts. One of especial merit presented Mrs. Melvin was a linen towel given her by her mother. The material was handled in the process of making from the field, where the flax was gathered, to the loom, by Mrs. Melvin's grandmother and had served as a bed-cover in the family for thirty-five years before being laid aside as an heirloom. It was from a piece of this gift towel was made.

Games, both indoors and out, made the evening pass most merrily. The refreshment hour brought out an abundance of delicious ice cream and a variety of dainty cakes, which were furnished by the self-invited guests.

The personnel included: Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Melvin and son, Harold, and the Rev. and Mrs. J. J. Woodson and daughters, Mable Lee and Dorothy, and Mrs. Fred Hardcastle and son, Allen, of Santa Barbara, Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Gillette and daughters, Adelaide and Madeleine, and son, Fred, of Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. T. W. Hamble and son, Bertram, of Long Beach, Mrs. E. Stiffler, of Norwalk, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Melvin, daughter, Mildred and son, Delbert, of Santa Ana, Helen Wardlow, Louise Wardlow, Ora Hill, Floyd Brock, Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Gilbert, daughters, Alpha, Dedah, Lola and Florence, and sons, William and Doyle, of Talbert.

Mrs. L. T. Wells and children, Lavangh and Lewis, accompanied her daughter, Mrs. Berry Stice, to her home in Santa Ana Saturday and remained as over-night guests. On Sunday Mrs. Wells joined her family and Mr. and Mrs. Stice, the latter's brother, Eugene Perry, and Mr. and Mrs. Wells and the children enjoyed a motor trip together to Newport and Balboa. The Wells returned home that evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Titus have as guests at their home Mrs. Titus' mother, who will make her home here, and a cousin, who arrived the past week from Oregon. On Sunday Mr. and Mrs. Titus and family with their guests motored to Long Beach for the day.

Will Brady, who with his wife and family were week-end guests from Hollywood at the home of his sister, Mrs. Ben Rogers, of Bolsa, called Sunday on his mother, Mrs. M. L. Thurman, and sister, Mrs. S. E. Talbert, of this place.

The Rev. and Mrs. W. W. Woodson and daughters, Mable Lee and Dorothy, were guests Wednesday evening at a dinner party given at the James Parker home in Santa Ana.

IRVINE

IRVINE, July 21.—Mr. and Mrs. Earle Marshall and sons, Charles and Kenneth, are spending a week at Newport Beach.

Mrs. Charles Spaletti spent the week-end in Los Angeles with relatives.

Mrs. Graves is spending a few days in Long Beach.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Spencer and daughter, Adelaide, attended the Elks' convention in Los Angeles Thursday.

FULLERTON

FULLERTON, July 21.—The daily vocation Bible school which has been in session since July 5 at the Methodist church, announces an exhibit and program by its students and cordially invites everyone to attend. It will be given Friday evening in the new building of the Methodist church on Pomona avenue.

The exhibit will be open at 7 o'clock and at 7:30 an interesting program, including songs, dramatizations and recitations will be given by the children.

This will be the closing feature of the daily vocation Bible school, which has been so successful. The number of children enrolled totals 75 with an average daily attendance of 58.

The exhibit will be open at 7 o'clock and at 7:30 an interesting program, including songs, dramatizations and recitations will be given by the children.

Mrs. Frank Watson, of Los Angeles, came Monday to the W. G. Alford home and that evening Mr. and Mrs. Alford and their guest attended the meetings of the Fraternal Brotherhood at the Robert Hazard home.

LUMBER SHIP MEN
RECRUITING CREWS

SAN FRANCISCO, July 21.—Steam schooner owners here began to recruit non-union crews for several ships, which they plan to sail from San Francisco next Monday. Increased demand for lumber at various ports on the Pacific coast was declared by the owners as the reason for their desire to get ships moving.

their occupation here, bringing in fish and shellfish. In the canyon, are a number of small orchards. The hills are devoted to pasturage for cattle of the Irvine, Moulton and Yoch ranches.

 Well for those who have no fear,
 Looking seaward well assured
 That the word the vessel brings
 Is the word they wish to hear.
 —Emerson.

SOLDIERS WILLING TO QUIT

It develops that sympathy for the soldiers who were destined to be "turned out of their jobs" as a result of the army curtailment ordered by Congress has been misplaced. The men will not have to be forced out. They are willing, even eager, to leave.

It is reported that nearly 25 per cent of the 220,000 now in the service have already requested their discharge. In Camp Lewis, Washington, two-thirds are ready to go. It may be that the necessary 70,000 can be eliminated in this friendly and honorable way. If not, there are many thousands whose term of service will expire in any event before the expiration of the time limit set for the reduction, and who will thus be dropped automatically instead of being invited to re-enlist as usual.

This situation may not seem to speak very well for the repute of the service as a calling. When men are so willing to leave at a time of depression and general unemployment, the army obviously has no very strong appeal. But it must be remembered that Americans have never cared much for army service.

There is always a restless youth here and there who feels the urge to enlist for the sake of travel, novelty and adventure, but even he is likely to tire of it before long. For a regular occupation, the typical American prefers something else, especially in time of peace.

Large numbers of the present personnel, too, enlisted as a result of much urging, as a patriotic duty. When it is made clear to them that their country no longer wants their services, that is enough. They proceed to go where they are wanted. And the chances are that before many months they will all be wanted in the offices and workshops of the country, and on its farms and railroads and shipping routes, to do the work of the coming business revival.

Don't laugh at the War Department for asking an alleged slacker to prove that he's dead. Many a man's a dead one, and won't admit it.

A MODERN CITY CHURCH

Chicago claims the first skyscraper church. Construction has not begun, but the plans are made and it is probable that they will be carried out. It is to be erected by the First Methodist Episcopal Church, in the city's downtown district, and will be a combination of skyscraper office building and conventional church edifice. The First Methodist Church has occupied the same site ever since Chicago was a straggling village. Now that the busiest part of a busy city has grown up around it, the new church building is to be adapted to modern conditions.

A description of the proposed building, printed in the Chicago Evening Post, informs the public it is to be pure French-Gothic in style and American in general structure, thus combining the grace of medieval churches with the utility of the modern office building. There will be 21 stories with a spire 140 feet tall rising from the roof. On the ground floor will be the church auditorium. Any left-over space will be given up to offices and stores. On the second-story will be a balcony increasing the auditorium's seating capacity by 400. All the week-day activities of the church will have rooms and offices in the building. It is thought that other church organizations will also take office space there, so that most of the building will be occupied by national boards, commissions and executive committees carrying on religious work.

This is a startling departure in church construction; distinctly a product of the American big city. There is no reason why the building should not be beautiful in line and proportion. There is no reason, either, why its week-day utility should interfere with its function as a place for worship. Many times the external beauty of a city church is lost because the surroundings are not suitable to set off its dignity and charm. This skyscraper scheme is simply adapting the exterior of the church to its environment.

NEGOTIATIONS AND GUNS

Nearly everybody seems to be heartily in favor of the disarmament conference in Washington. The only important difference of opinion has to do with the scope of the work to be undertaken.

Senator Borah and his adherents would like to have the government stick to the original proposition of getting the three leading naval powers to limit their navies by agreement. The administration favors a more ambitious program. It is ready to discuss naval armament, land armament and Far Eastern questions, and even the world situation in general, putting its emphasis on the elimination of the causes of international quarrel rather than on armament.

Probably no man, in public life or private life, can say with assurance which method is better. Unquestionably if the basic causes of dispute and warfare could be removed, disarmament would follow automatically. But that is a big, complex undertaking.

The matter might be put simply about like this: Take two men, or three men, or half a dozen men, engaged in a controversy, and all armed. How shall they be kept from fighting? Shall they be allowed to continue arguing with guns in their hands? Or shall they be required to lay aside their guns first?

Experience suggests that they may come to agreement more readily without their guns. That may be true, too, of nations. In fact, that is the way peace is nearly always made, when a state of war exists. An armistice is called, and then, with weapons laid aside, representatives of the two sides talk it over.

From a practical standpoint, it seems that, whatever subjects are to be brought before the conference, this matter of limiting navies might well be handled first. It is comparatively simple and easy, and the people everywhere are demanding it. With it out of the way, the rest might be easier.

SALVATION IN HARD WORK

The surest promise of returning prosperity is the evidence, accumulating on all sides, that the nation is returning to old-fashioned, primary virtues of conscientious toil and economy. Herbert Hoover referred hopefully to this fact in a recent address in Boston, saying:

"We have turned the corner, because we have given up speculation and wastefulness and our people are gaining more efficiency and interest in their work. We had lost much of our efficiency and interest and, I am sorry to say, more or less of our business modesty. Our people have gone back to work in earnest. Labor is 20 per cent more efficient than it was six or seven months ago. Farmers are putting in more effort than for 10 years, working longer hours, using old machinery and buying less. As a result, the cost of living will come down."

Mere hard work, he suggests, will not accomplish everything. There can be no recovery from hard times if foreign relations are ignored, because "the hard times that knock at every cottage door came from Europe." Governmental expenditures, too, are important, and so is taxation. But work is the main thing—harder work for everybody than people have been accustomed to since the armistice, and along with it, thrifty expenditure and contentment with smaller profits.

Unwise and Unjustified

San Bernardino Sun

In continuation of the differences which now amount almost to a feud between the directors of the Southern California Automobile Club and the State Highway Commission, the club has launched a campaign of publicity through the newspapers which amounts to an effort to thoroughly discredit the Commission. The Sun is in receipt of two communications, the first being made up of an elaborate series of whereases and resolutions, the expressed purpose of which is to declare for the best in the way of state highways, with which laudable purpose nobody would quarrel. The statement is made that the resolutions were submitted to the almost 57,000 members of the Automobile Club, and approved with practical unanimity. We do not doubt it. Everybody is for fine highways, motorists 100 per cent, and with the resolution which summarizes the situation and voices the purpose of the Automobile Club, nobody could possibly object. Here is the resolution:

"Now therefore, Be It Resolved, that the Automobile Club of Southern California hereby declares it to be the policy of the Club to insist upon (1) the completion at as early a date as possible of all the highways promised by the State of California; (2) the building of such highways of material, foundation, quality, width and surface as will provide the people of California with highways that will be superior to or at least the equal of, those constructed by any other state in the Union, such highways being essential to our traffic development, which will undoubtedly keep pace with the inevitable development of California; (3) the preservation of such highways and bridges by the adequate regulation of traffic thereover, including the limitation of loads, and (3) the careful, tireless and efficient maintenance of all highways heretofore or hereafter constructed."

But it is the use to which the resolution is to be put that we cannot agree with. The purpose of this and of the long-drawn-out campaign of the Automobile Club is to persuade the people of the state that the Highway Commission has done poor work, that it refused to take the advice of expert engineers, that it built poor highways instead of good highways, and that generally, the commission ought to surrender its judgment to the directors of the Automobile Club, who want the money produced by the license issues used to build much heavier concrete roads, the result of which would be to build less than half the mileage that was originally promised, and deny many communities the highways they have the right to expect.

In our opinion, the trouble with the highways is not that they were poorly built, although of course there has been some bad work done, just as there has been some poor work done in counties. The difficulty is that the highways are being used to furnish a right of way for freight trains instead of motor vehicles and they were never intended to support anything of the kind. Trucks, hauling many tons of freight, with hard rubber tires, are pounding the highways to pieces, for the impact of a heavily loaded truck, driven 20 or 25 miles an hour, is nothing less than terrific.

And here is exactly where the Automobile Club gets in wrong. Its influence at Sacramento last winter was lined up with the truck men who were trying to get a law through greatly increasing the loads that may be hauled over the roads, while the supervisors, county engineers and State Highway Commission were fighting such heavy loads, for the very purpose of saving the highways.

There isn't money enough in the state to build concrete roads that will carry the immense loads of freight which the trucks can be built to carry. It is either a question of whether we will maintain the roads for pleasure and for the ordinary freight vehicles, or we will leaving the heavy freight to the railroads, or we see the highways wrecked and torn to pieces, as they are beginning to be. There is no question as to what is happening, but there is a very serious question as to why it is happening.

This is no new question. The fight has been raging for several years. A conference was held in San Francisco more than a year ago, where the work of the State Highway Commission was attacked, the conference being attended by road men and supervisors from all over the state, and there was no question in the minds of unprejudiced observers but that the Highway Commissioners came out of it with flying colors.

When the supervisors of the state met in convention in the San Joaquin Valley a few weeks ago, the whole question was threshed over and the result was an absolute vote of confidence in the State Highway Commission. The editor of The Sun discussed the subject with the San Bernardino county supervisors yesterday and they are unanimously with the Highway Commission and against the Automobile Club's contentions.

This is not by way of discrediting the great work the Automobile Club has done in the interest of good roads in general, in signing highways, in mapping routes and furnishing information. It has been and is a marvelously successful bureau. But we cannot "string" with it in this campaign it is making against the State Highway Commission. The fault in general is not that the roads have been poorly built but that they have been utterly misused, and for that the State Highway Commission is not to blame, but the legislature and supervisors may be. As witness of which latter, the supervisors of Riverside, Orange and San Bernardino counties are to confer next Monday, with a view to adopting a uniform load limit in the three counties.

The trucks do not begin to constitute five per cent of the traffic along the highways, but this five per cent is ruining the roads for the other 95 per cent of the users. Is that "the greatest good to the greatest numbers?"

GREATER LOVE HATH NO MAN

Today I read for the first time the story of "Sam," by Elbert Hubbard. I wish that I might tell it all as he told it in his inimitable way. Briefly it was like this:

Sam was the Chinese servant of a rich San Francisco lawyer. This servant was cook, valet, watchman, friend. No detail of service was too great or too small for him to anticipate. Between the two there was a perfect understanding. Each sought to show the other his gratitude.

But one morning, as the coffee was being poured for the master, Sam quietly—without a shade of emotion on his yellow face—exclaimed: "Next week I leave you!" The lawyer merely smiled, offered more money and shamed his excuses. But Sam added again: "Next week I leave for you. I hire for you better man."

Convinced by the earnestness and determination of the servant, however, the lawyer asked for his reasons for leaving.

"I will not tell you why I leave—you laugh," said Sam.

"No, I shall not laugh."

"You will."

"I say, I will not."

"Very well, I go to China to die!"

"Nonsense! You can die here. Haven't I agreed to send your body back if you die before I do?"

"I die in four weeks, two days!"

"What!"

"My brother, he in prison. He young—twenty-six. I fifty. He have wife and baby. In China they accept any man same family to die. I go to China, give my money to my brother—he live, I die!"

The next morning a new Chinaman came to be servant to the lawyer. In a week he also knew everything, and nothing, just as Sam had done.

But as the master at times called for "Sam," when he should have said "Charlie," there came "a kind of clutch at his heart"—but he said nothing.

The Velvet Hammer

BY A. B. B.

P. G. BEISSEL

The business life is full of wear and tear upon the mind. It makes us hanker to retire and quit the daily grind. We want to sit beside the stream and wait for fish to bite, or doze beneath the poplars, or watch the roosters fight. The color of the universe is badly tinged with blue, because we are afflicted with so many things to do.

A large and long vacation is a pleasure hard to beat. This was the firm conviction in the well known mind of Pete. He sold his shoe store off his hands to take a wholesale rest, to park his thumbs at leisure in the armholes of his vest. He bought his old job back again his pleasures to renew, because to play the livilong day was more than Pete could do.

Hard work is a commodity on which he grows and thrives. He's always big and busy in the public welfare drives. He has a potent army of accommodating friends, who take a hand in anything he strongly recommends. He's with Rotarians to serve good cause in shine or rain—they're chosen not for wealth or size but how they play the game.

HOW TO READ BODY TEMPERATURE

In health the body temperature varies within very small limits (usually less than one degree Fahrenheit), no matter how much the temperature of its surroundings varies; consequently a temperature is abnormal if it is higher or lower than the usual temperature of a healthy person.

The temperature is taken by means of a clinical thermometer.

To take the temperature, first wash the thermometer, using cold water and absorbent cotton or clean cloth. Next shake it until the mercury thread registers 96 degrees or below. It is well before purchasing a thermometer to see whether it can be shaken down easily. Next place the thermometer in the patient's mouth, with its bulb under his tongue; he must then keep his lips closed until it is removed. Leave the thermometer in his mouth for at least two minutes. Then remove the thermometer, read the temperature and record the result. Clean the thermometer at once, using first cold water and soap, and then medicated alcohol, 70 per cent.

The mouth temperature of a healthy person is about 98.6 degrees F. This statement holds true if the person has been sitting with his mouth shut for a little while before his temperature is taken; but a hot bath, breathing physical exertion, eating or drinking, and so forth may cause marked temporary changes.

ELECTRO-THERAPEUTICS

Q. Can electric treatments cure digestive trouble, and are such treatments harmless?—A Girl 24 Years.

A. The use of electric treatments in digestive trouble is very limited, and while the treatment in general may be harmless enough, it is throwing away money, unless in certain suitable cases the treatment is prescribed and directed by a reputable and qualified physician. There is something so mysterious about an electric apparatus that this form of treatment is widely exploited by fakers of various kinds. At the same time, there is a legitimate field for electro-therapeutics, but you should be sure that the treatment is prescribed and directed by a reputable physician.

The Old Lure

Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Strange what a fascination tales of buried gold, pirate doubloons and sea-washed pieces of eight hold over the minds of men! Another craft has limped into harbor back from the age-long quest.

The returning Argonauts had sailed out of a harbor, shaded by the fort-story buildings. They had gone out of an Age of Steel Molybdenum and Radium into the shadows of Sea Romance.

All the treasured traditions had been kept. There was an "old sea oracle," a Captain Brown, a tarry and oaken-rasped sailor, who told a tale of Cocos Island's buried gold, of treasures shifted to the island of Tubai, of honest sailor men turning pirate and falling afool of, was it "three tall ships," out of Australia booming gold-laden over salt lanes to England.

The treasure-hunters went a-sailing in a ship with sails. They dug over Tubai Island till it was cratered and pitted. They scattered the bones of long-dead Society Islanders and shattered the cannibal altars of fierce brown men. But they found no lost and buried or wasted world. But—they had the adventure that every boy and every man who keeps some of the boy in his calloused heart, dreams about. Shades of Captain Kidd, Jean Lafitte and Sir Henry Morgan! Ghosts of Bluebird and all the "magicked" names of seaboaters and bloody-minded pirates who flew the Jolly Roger!

"Treasure Island" set the literary fashion, and a great tale it is, but how could any man have written a dull tale on such a theme? There is something about salt seas and rickety boats, yellow sands and "league-long rollers thundering on the reef" that calls up visions of bare-armed pirates digging in the moonlight and a brass-bound treasure chest.

We are glad that the old lure still holds. It proves that the world is not an old and a wasted world. There is youth in it and the pull toward adventure so long as men will go in a ship with sails to dig for treasure in lonely islands of the South Seas.

BOSSIE COW TO THE RESCUE

By Harvey Elliott

"Rippity crash, smash, smash!" Billy Bear took his eyes off of that frightened little calf long enough to look around to see what was making that racket behind him. Then, oh, dear! He saw more trouble on the way.

Old Bossie Cow had heard her baby's cry for help. You may be sure she didn't lose any time coming to the rescue. She came on the run as far as the fence, and when she saw that pesky Bear after her baby she wouldn't stop for a little thing like a fence.

That is what that ripping, smashing sound was that Billy had heard. It was Old Bossie coming right through that fence. The worst of it was, when Billy looked around she was already over on his side.

The thing that Billy didn't like was, she was bringing those sharp spikes on the sides of her head along, and he didn't see any use of her bringing them unless she had some idea of using them.

Now Billy Bear was hoping Old Bossie would go on over where the calf was and comfort it. He needed some comfort himself, but not the kind he feared Old Bossie might want to give him.

"There it is! Over there it is!" shouted Billy, frantically, as he pointed toward the calf. But Old Bossie didn't think for Billy Bear. "Over it!" thought Billy. "If old flatnose won't listen to reason I'll have to do something else, and do it pretty quick."

So Billy started to run. He quickly saw that if he kept on ahead he would soon be into the fence, and he didn't know whether he could go through it as easily as Old Bossie had done or not. Now there was a wagon standing over next to the fence, and Billy decided to see if he couldn't get into it. So he made one desperate jump and landed safely on the inside of the wagon-box.

Old Bossie was coming so hard she butted right into the wagon, and Billy was hoping she would break her old horns off and learn some more sense. But it didn't seem to hurt her much. As Billy looked out toward the side he saw her start over toward her calf, carrying her horns right along with her.

"That is where I wanted you to go in the first place, you old pie-face," said Billy, as he saw her going away. He felt pretty safe now, for he knew she couldn't climb into a wagon or else she would have been in before that.

Billy sat down in the wagon-box to rest his nerves, but he kept his head up over the side so he wouldn't miss anything that was going on. There was a contented grin on Billy's face as he said:

"I sure did have to run. But I'm having lots of fun."

CIRCUMSTANTIAL DIAGNOSIS
 An old-time practitioner took his "understudy" with him on a hurry-up call to a poor country residence and in with him to witness his method of diagnosis. No sooner had the practitioner looked at his patient and felt his pulse, than he gravely told the sick man:

"You have been eating too much watermelon and too many green apples. I shall straighten you up in a short while if you follow directions carefully."

The sick man confessed his over-indulgence in the two fruits mentioned, and the young man, once they had left the place, asked the old physician how he could tell what the man had been eating.

"I saw the rinds and cores under the bed," was the chuckled reply.

A few days later the doctor entrusted the young man with a professional call by himself. An hour later the young man rode hastily back and said:

"We can't do much for this fellow, I guess. He has eaten a horse."

"Eaten a horse!" exclaimed the old doctor.

"Sure thing. I saw the saddle and bridle under his bed."
